Secrecy Veils Okla. Klan War

CALL MORE SOLDIERS TO CITY

Governor Walton Takes New Drastic Step In Oklahoma City Clash

MILITARY TRIBUNAL IN SECRET SESSION

Executive Challenges Klan to Whip Him In Speech at Okmulgee

(By United Press Leased Wire)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 18.—Governor Walton's court of military inquiry designed to probe alleged lawlessness and write "finis" on the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma, went into secret session shortly before noon today.

Military headquarters bristled with activity. Truckloads of guardsmen hurried through downtown streets. Others marched at double time to various posts of duty.

The military operations were shrouded in secrecy. Troop movements were ordered kept secret by the governor.

High Klan officials, including N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma "realm," were slated for examination by the military court. Jewett, it was reported, would be called today.

Strict Enforcement.

Strict enforcement of military regulations was observed for the first time since Oklahoma's capital was occupied by state troops.

Legislators were not in evidence about the state house where guardsmen were stationed to prevent a meeting. It was reported they would stay and convene at some building other than the state house in Oklahoma City or nearby.

State fair officials, indignant at the action of Governor Walton in calling off the annual fair festival, called a conference for noon to protest. Directors of the local chamber of commerce will meet with the fair board.

Bring Machine Guns.

Battery A, 189th field artillery of Enid were the first troops to arrive from outside the county. Four machine guns were unloaded with the other equipment of the guardsmen.

The governor returned today from Okmulgee county, where he delivered two vigorous speeches, in which he repeated his determination to rule the state with bayonet and machine gun until the "invisible empire" had been driven out of existence in Oklahoma.

Okmulgee county, which was first to feel the grip of martial law last spring, when Walton began his militant drive on the Klan, turned out in thousands to hear the governor's speeches. At Okmulgee, where he spoke last night after issuing a challenge to the Ku Klux Klan to whip him as he claimed they had threatened, hundreds were unable to enter the crowded theater.

Torch Defies Governor.

A flaming white cross blazed defiantly from the room of the Klan temple a few blocks away and the Okmulgee chapter of the "invisible empire" was reported in session during the governor's address.

Aside from this flaming symbol of the Klan protest, there was no demonstration against the executive.

The governor admitted in his address that the grand jury which sought to meet here and investigate charges he misused public funds, had forced him to play his trump card and blanket the state with military rule.

Police powers of the city were returned to civil authority, but this was not regarded as a weakening of Walton's determination to continue to rule with the mailed fist until the Klan had been overthrown.

DEATH LIST GROWS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—One more was added to the list of American dead in the Japanese disaster when Consul Dickover at Kobe notified the state department today that Miss Eleanor Mantell, San Francisco, perished.

Cabinet Plans To Lend Aid To Wheat Men

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Temporary relief measures for wheat producers will be worked out by President Coolidge and his cabinet, in an effort to put that branch of agriculture on a "sound economic basis," an administration spokesman announced at the White House today.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, who conferred with President Coolidge before today's cabinet meeting, is to report Thursday or Friday on details of the proposed emergency measures.

The cabinet today devoted its session to discussion of agriculture problems.

PLAN FAMILY BURIAL FOR GANG LEADER

Widow and Child Claim Body Of Notorious Outlaw Slain by Oklahoma Posse.

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Sept. 18.—As preparations were made to bury Al Spencer, notorious Oklahoma outlaw, in the potters' field today, his widow and their 12-year-old child appeared at the morgue and claimed the body.

Mrs. Spencer said she would place it in a family plot near Nowata. It had remained unclaimed in the local morgue since Spencer was shot to death Saturday by a posse. Fifteen thousand persons viewed the bullet-riddled body.

75 CANDIDATES RECEIVE 33RD IN MASONRY

(By United Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Members of the supreme council of the Scottish Rite order of Free Masonry gathered here for the ceremony of conferring the 33rd degree on seventy-five candidates.

Many well-known men are included in the list of candidates. President Harding would have been present had he lived. General Leonard M. Wood, governor general of the Philippine Islands, also was to have been present, but was unable to leave his post.

Among those here were Augustus Thomas, playwright; Charles Rann Kennedy, actor and author; George Spidell, of Famous Players-Lasky; Arthur S. Thompson, grand master of the New York Masons, and E. M. Statler, president of the Statler Hotels company.

The 33rd degree is the highest degree of the Scottish Rite. It is conferred for service to the order or community. Leon M. Abbott, Boston, grand commander of the supreme council, was to preside.

Standard Oil Lowers N. Y. Gasoline Price

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Further cuts in gasoline prices were put into effect today by the Standard Oil company of New York, following a cut by Gulf Refining.

The tank wagon price in New York and New England was reduced one cent to 13 1/2 cents.

Texas company already has reduced its price one cent a gallon in territory covered by the Standard Oil of New York.

Chicago 'Beer War' Results in Double Killing in Traffic Jam

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Hundreds of detectives and policemen raged the city today in a great manhunt under the personal supervision of Mayor William Dever, as a result of the "beer war" which flamed into life last night and took a toll of two lives.

Ten suspects are in jail and more are being rounded up.

Georgia Meeghan and "Spot" Budger were shot to death in the crowded Ingelwood district as they sat in their automobile waiting for the traffic officer to release the flow of traffic. Death was dealt from another machine which drove up behind the two victims. At a signal, a volley of bullets from revolvers and slugs from sawed off shotguns poured into the backs of the men. The slayers drove up alongside and poured another volley into the inert bodies.

Less than two weeks ago Jerry O'Connor was shot to death in a beer saloon. The three victims were members of what authorities call "Spikes" O'Donnell's beer syndicate. Members of a rival beer syndicate are blamed by the police.

DENIES FOG IN DISASTER

PRESSMEN IN N. Y. STAGE WALKOUT

Metropolis Minus Morning Papers As Result of Sudden Strike

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—A newspaper with a title line of "Combined New York Evening Papers" and bearing on the first page the names of the eleven Brooklyn-New York papers, was the publisher's answer this afternoon to the strike of pressmen which tied up the dailies today. With few exceptions, New York papers were unable to publish their regular editions, and the combined edition was put on the streets at 4 o'clock.

(By United Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—New York City awoke today to find its morning paper missing from the doorstep.

A strike of 2,500 members of the Newspaper Web Pressmen's Union, Local 25, early today tied up practically every daily in the city. An exception was the New York Call, socialist.

The walkout came as a culmination of 18 months of bitter strife over wages and working conditions. It was unexpected, however, as far as the general public was concerned.

Oppose Agreement

An agreement which the pressmen had submitted to early in 1921 known as the Manton Award, based on a decision handed down by a New York judge of that name, was the bone of contention.

The pressmen, for the most part, had never accepted it with the wages and working conditions this embraced.

A new agreement with the publishers' association was to have been submitted to the local union by International President Major George L. Berry by September 1, last. At a previous meeting, Major Berry had promised to submit the agreement last night, and a strike had thus been forestalled according to the version of the difficulties given by the Call.

Major Berry Missing

Last night Major Berry could not be found at the Waldorf Astoria and his absence was the immediate cause of the strike vote.

The following newspapers were included in the strike order: The American, the Journal, the Morning World, the Evening World, the Times, the Tribune, the Herald, the Sun and Globe, the Illustrated Daily News, the Morning Telegraph, the Evening Telegram, the Evening Mail, the New York Evening Post, the Journal of Commerce, Brooklyn Standard Union, the Brooklyn Citizen and the Progresso Italiano-American.

It was announced the vote to strike was unanimous.

Seek Higher Wages

The Manton award, according to the pressmen, reduced wages, interfered with union shop rules and required men to work any eight hours in twelve. This expired September 1, and it was in hopes of an agreement more favorable to them that the pressmen of local 25 had met. When this was not forthcoming, they struck.

Early today only the Socialist Call and a few remaining copies of a picture newspaper which was printed before midnight, were for sale.

266 Miles Per Hour Now Plane Record

MITCHEL FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Crashing through space at 266 miles an hour, Lieut. Al Williams, navy airplane pilot, set what is claimed to be a new world's speed record, in a Curtiss baby racing plane here today.

The speed was timed electrically and its authenticity is attested by navy officials. A brisk wind was blowing behind the plane when it reached its greatest velocity.

PANIC GRIPS ISLAND FOLK AFTER QUAKE

Hundreds Flee From Churches In Malta As Structures Are Shaken by Tremors.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Inhabitants of Malta were thrown into a panic early today by unprecedentedly severe earthquake, shocks which rocked the island.

Hundreds who were at mass, rushed from the shaking churches and milled about in the open squares.

First reports indicate that the shocks, which occurred at 7:30 a. m., did little damage.

POLITICS MAIN TOPIC BEFORE LABOR MEET

(By United Press Leased Wire)
STOCKTON, Sept. 18.—With a full attendance of delegates, the State Federation of Labor got down to actual business today.

Introduction of resolutions occupied the morning session. Nothing of unusual importance is expected by officers.

The political discussion scheduled for Friday is looked forward to as the big event of the convention.

Next year's convention probably will go to Pasadena in accordance with a promise made when she withdrew in favor of Stockton last year. Thus far no other city has put in a bid for the meeting.

President Seth Brown assailed Governor Richardson's economy program in his annual report, delivered last night, calling it "economical for the corporations, and a determined effort to capture the political machinery of the next legislature."

Election of officers will be held Thursday.

L. A. SLAYERS CLAIM MEMBER OF NOBILITY

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18.—The body of Carl G. Peterson, 50, believed to be related to the Swedish nobility, was found in his room today under mysterious circumstances that point toward murder, according to police.

Peterson's body was lying flat on the bed and half on the floor. A raised lump on the forehead, highly discolored, led police to believe Peterson had been murdered with a heavy blunt instrument.

Letters signed by men active in Swedish affairs of state were found among Peterson's effects. Several portraits of the Royal Swedish family were on the walls of the room. Personal letters indicating Peterson had important connections in Sweden, were found in the bureau drawer.

Peterson's landlady could throw no light on the mystery. She said her roomer had no recent callers that she could recall.

SURPRISE IS SPRUNG IN HEARING

Testimony of Officers In Sea Disaster Inquiry Conflicting

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 18.—As the testimony of Lieut. Lawrence Wild, communication officer of the wrecked Delphy which led six other destroyers on the rocks September 8, continued here today, chances for obtaining a satisfactory explanation of the disaster loomed nearer for the official board of inquiry.

The board is looking for Wild, Captain Edward Watson, commander of the squadron, and the officer in charge of the Pont Aruello compass station, to offer an explanation of the sudden right angle turn order which resulted in the fleet crashing into the rocks fifteen minutes after it was given.

Wild's testimony conflicted with the reports of most of the commanders of the wrecked vessels when he denied that there was a serious fog at the time of the crash.

On the now famous right-angle turn order, Captain Watson read in his report, that after obtaining his compass bearings from the land station, he ordered the course changed so that the flotilla could enter the Santa Barbara channel.

But, for some reason, there was a twelve mile error in the bearings received by radio, and the boats went on the reef fifteen minutes after the messages were flashed, Watson claimed. The message may have been erroneous when sent or improperly received, or the fatal twelve mile blunder may have been caused by improper plotting of the courses.

The testimony of Watson, one of the twelve officers named as defendants in the inquiry, is expected to furnish a high-light of the quiz. He has not yet been called in his own behalf.

Identify Victim of Cajon Pass Slaying

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 18.—Apparently murdered, the body which was found near the Cajon Pass road last week, was identified today as N. N. Lucas, 60, of Oakland. J. Williams, a companion of whom Lucas was frequently seen on holidays, is being sought by police today.

Urges Nation To Join In Fight on Fire

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Calling attention to the appalling loss of lives and property by fire in the United States yearly, President Coolidge today issued a proclamation designating October 9 as National Fire Prevention Day.

Mr. Coolidge said in his message that he was informed 15,000 persons were killed or injured in fires in 1922, while the property loss was $500,000,000. He particularly urged educational work in homes, schools and industrial plants for fire prevention.

REFLECTION OF FLAMES SEEN HERE

Great Berkeley Fire Lights Up Sky; Garden Grove Boy Loses All in Blaze.

Reflection of the flames that gutted the college town of Berkeley yesterday was seen in Orange county within a few hours following reports of the catastrophe, it was learned today.

J. O. Arkley, citrus grower of Garden Grove, received a wire last night from his son, attending the University of California, that the fire had robbed the student of all his possessions.

Relieved that his son was alive, Arkley immediately dispatched funds by wire to re-establish the student in new quarters that he might continue his studies without a break.

LUMBER PLANT HEAVY LOSER FROM BLAZE

NORTHFOLK, Calif., Sept. 18.—Loss of life is feared and property loss of $100,000 is actual today in a forest fire centering in holdings of the Sugar Pine Lumber company.

An unconfirmed report is that two employees of the lumber company were surrounded by the flames. Their fate is undetermined.

The blaze was carried to the vicinity of Central Camp by a high wind that fanned embers of the fire near Coarse Gold, twelve miles distant.

It is expected that the flames will be controlled tonight if the wind does not shift. Hundreds of men have been mobilized by the lumber company to combat the fire.

The camps of the company were saved as were the tracks of the Minaret and Western Railway and the rails of the sugar pine company from Wishon into the timber zone.

Repairs to power lines and equipment will be made at once and no interruption will be caused in the company's logging operations.

Victim of Shooting Holds Act Justified

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18.—Louis Costa, a janitor, confessed to police today that he shot and seriously wounded Edward Farmer, 47, another janitor, because of a secret lodge feud, the outgrowth of alleged jealousy.

When police picked Farmer up on the street he said: "He had a right to shoot me."

Beyond that he would not commit himself. Farmer is a much larger man than Costa.

FLAMES IN BERKELEY DESTROY 600 HOMES; 2 TOWNS WIPED OUT

Disastrous Fire In University City Held Due to Broken High Power Wire; Famous Resorts Razed As Winds Cause Flames to Spread

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—Loss in the fires which swept Central California during the last 36 hours mounted this afternoon close to $15,000,000. The figures grew when C. C. Ensley, head of the Berkeley, Calif., board of fire underwriters announced that his organization placed the loss in Berkeley alone at $10,000,000 instead of $5,000,000 as previously estimated.

Reports of fires sweeping the towns of El Dorado, Woodacre and Markham, together with heavy losses to timber owners, and destruction of bridges and railroad trestles still further increased the estimates.

Reports this afternoon indicated all fires were either under control or checked excepting the one at El Dorado which was still burning.

Berkeley, seat of the University of California and home of thousands of persons of more than usual wealth, saw fifty blocks of her finest dwellings fall into blackened wreckage during the fire.

In the Sonoma valley—"the valley of the moon"—made famous by Jack London—Boyes Springs, training ground for baseball players and approximately 100 summer homes and farm houses, were swept away by forest fire.

In the Russian river section of Sonoma county, where San Franciscans go for their week-end rest, probably another 100 summer cottages and small ranch houses were burned by another fire.

Still another major fire destroyed the Johannesburg resort in Napa county and burned perhaps a score of cottages strewn through the hills.

Town Wiped Out

The town of Markham in Sonoma county, a small settlement, was entirely wiped out.

The settlement of Woodacre in Marin county, 30 miles from San Francisco, was burned excepting for five houses left standing.

In addition to these more than fifty small fires, doing less damage, are burning in various parts of northern California and have given rise to many rumors of additional major damage.

The fire in Berkeley was the worst disaster which has visited California since earthquake and fire destroyed San Francisco in 1906.

It burned almost the choice part of classic Berkeley, a strip of fifty blocks along the north side of the University of California campus.

Estimates of the damage cannot take into consideration the value of antiques, libraries and objects of art, which were destroyed in Berkeley's homes.

Under Martial Law

The burned area was placed under martial law today with soldiers from the President of San Francisco and the University reserve corps, all armed, patrolling the streets. Five looters were arrested during the morning.

Thirty persons remain unaccounted for but it is believed they are safe. Reports to police, all unconfirmed, told of a total of six men who may have been killed. Those injured in the fire will total more than 100.

The list of those burned out reads like a page from a directory of the nation's elite—Charles Keeler, poet Chester Rowell, editor and political leader; Ralph P. Merritt, aide to Herbert Hoover; Benjamin Ide Wheeler, former president of the University; Prof. Alexis Lange, noted scholar; and John Galen Howard, famed architect, being but a few among the number.

FREE LABOR LEADER TAKEN IN K. C. RAID

(By United Press Leased Wire)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 18.—William Z. Foster, labor leader, was free in city court today when arraigned on charges of "seditious utterances." Judge M. J. Kilroy held that as long as Foster had rented a hall and paid for it with his own money he was entitled to say what he pleased as long as it did not result in a disturbance of the peace.

Police said they arrested Foster because he was spreading ideas which sounded un-American to them.

About 300 heard Foster's speech on "My Trial in Michigan for Communism," during which he asked for contributions for his defense.

A total of $60 was subscribed for his defense fund before he was arrested.

WATER SAVES COW

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 18.—When a cow fell 30 feet into a pit here today its life was saved by military authorities who tapped a fire main and floated the animal to the surface.

Several ranches in the district were destroyed.

The flames have reached the outskirts of Forrest Knoll.

The Arcadia Sanitarium near Woodacre is surrounded by flames. Patients have been removed to Fairfax.

Two hundred soldiers from the Presidio, San Francisco, and thousands of residents of the county are fighting the fire.

Several fire fighters have been badly burned.

PLAN TO SEIZE AUTOISTS WHO EJECT TAGS

Autoists who have failed to answer the command of a red tag, hanging on the steering wheel of their machine by a member of the Santa Ana police force, were due for arrest today.

City Marshal Claude Rogers issued an order to his men that warrants for arrest of all autoists who had not responded to the red tag summons should be served immediately.

Fifty warrants, approximately, were drawn up by Sergeant Frank Lutz and handed to the respective policemen.

"Some autoists seem to think that they may neglect the summons of an officer, who charges them with violation of a traffic law or ordinance," Chief Rogers said.

"Failure to respond to the summons on or before the designated time, unless a suitable excuse has been offered, puts the party in danger of appearing on another court—contempt of court."

Several of the warrants prepared were offenses said to have been committed in August.

ALARM SPREAD AS REDWOODS ARE FELLED

FUREKA, Sept. 18.—Awakening suddenly to the fact that Humboldt county has become one of the most magnetic recreation grounds of California, interest is being revived here in the "save the redwoods" movement. A bond issue of not less than $1,000,000 has been proposed in order to get immediate action. Tourists by the thousands are passing along the Redwood highway every week and the magnificent redwood vistas between Scotia and Dyerville have aroused the utmost enthusiasm. But these redwoods already are falling under the ax and only a few months could witness their complete destruction.

What this will mean to the county has been realized as never before, and sentimental discussion has been sidetracked for practical business consideration of the issue. Hereafter the "save the redwoods" campaigns, it is becoming evident here, will be on a basis of "keep the tourists coming" and with the clear understanding that to save the trees will keep them producing revenue for generations rather than returning a small profit by being reduced to lumber.

After many months devoted to experimentation, the tanbark extract plant erected on the Bair property on redwood creek is now working to full capacity. The plant is the only one of its kind in the world. It is unique in that instead of the customary powder made by other processes, a concentrate of the consistency of jelly is produced, being far more powerful than the powdered form. Transportation is facilitated by the new method.

R. D. Boynton, dairyman residing near Ferndale, in Del Rio valley, was painfully injured this week when he was attacked by a mad bull. He is now under the care of a trained nurse. Had it not been for the timely arrival of his son, Boynton undoubtedly would have been killed.

Bear hunting promises to be a rare sport in Humboldt county this year, bear being reported unusually plentiful this season. J. F. Preston, veteran bear hunter, says that there is no indication of race suicide in the bruin family.

NICKEL MINING LOOKS UP.
SUDBURY, Ontario, Sept. 18.—The British American nickel mine and smelter is increasing its production to such proportions that, with the erection of a third furnace, now on the ground, the capacity will be 50 per cent greater than it was in the peak years during the war. The nickel trade is reported to be in a healthy condition and future prospects good. Two furnaces are now being operated at the smelter, and they will shortly take care of about 50,000 tons of ore monthly.

DEVELOPMENT GOES ON.
NORTH BAY, Ontario, Sept. 18.—Activity in the north is assuming very large proportions, altogether apart from the mines and pulp companies, and labor is already getting so scarce that one company, to get an additional 100 men, had to send an agent to Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa. At the moment it is understood that over 4000 men are employed on development work, and this is likely to be increased to over 5000 before the snow flies.

CO-OP SOCIETIES GAIN.
BRANTFORD, Ontario, Sept. 18.—Co-operative societies reporting to the Co-operative union of Canada, a national federation of co-operative societies, report sales for the year 1922 of $5,004,820. In addition, the co-operative marketing organization, the United Grain Growers, limited, marketed $9,224 head of cattle, 79,390 hogs, and 26,000,000 bushels of grain. Apart from the societies in the organized movement, there are some hundreds in Canada, more or less co-operative, operating independently of each other.

WHEAT POOL JOINED.
REGINA, Sask., Sept. 18.—Nearly 3,000 contracts for the wheat pool, covering 400,000 acres, have been received at the headquarters of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Wheat Producers' limited. During the past few days, bringing the total acreage signed up to more than 1,000,000.

C. of C. Directors Plan to Consider Committee Reports

The desire to give more extended consideration to committee reports submitted brought adjournment of a meeting of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce directors today until 8:30 a. m. Thursday. Five new members were voted into the Chamber. They were: H. M. Daley & Co., brokerage and mortgage loan; Geo. A. Ragan, Western Loan and Bldg. Co.; L. J. Christopher Co., confectionery; J. A. Mueller, detective and patrol service; Fred W. Yaeger, rock and sand products, Fullerton.

BERKELEY FIRE LOSS REACHES $10,500,000

fighters. All of these fires were reported during the morning as under control.

The new mill at Duncan's Mill and some railroad equipment were consumed.

Two trestles on the Northwestern Pacific Cadenzo branch were torched, tying up traffic on that line.

Just before noon reports from all parts of the fire zone were that the situation was "much better." Back-firing was then in progress around Guerneville.

Eldorado, famous mining camp of the "fifties" was practically wiped out during the night. Only seven buildings remain standing. The structures destroyed include many dating back to 1854 and which had been the haunts of Bret Harte and Mark Twain when they were in the California mining camps.

600 HOMES RAZED BY BERKELEY FIRE, ESTIMATE
BERKELEY, Sept. 18.—Shortly before noon today the office of the city assessor issued a statement in which the loss in yesterday's great fire was placed at $9,000,000. The city assessor said his charts showed 600 houses had been burned.

The Berkeley city council met during the morning and passed a resolution thanking the cities which have offered aid but stating no help would be needed. Reserve corps detachments formed lines around the devastated zone early today and all persons who could prove they had homes in the burned district were allowed ten minutes each inside the lines to visit the ruins in search of anything valuable.

Rescues Furniture
A scavenger wagon drove through the burned district loaded with mahogany furniture, worth hundreds of dollars, which someone had saved. Behind it rolled an automobile of a make costing many thousands, and in the tonneau was a sewing machine—the sole possession left to the automobile owners.

An elderly man of distinguished appearance walked down the street with a pair of andirons in his hands, apparently all that was left of his home, and probably a relic rich in memories if not an antique of great value.

As the morning wore on, others drifted toward the burned district and tried to salvage bits of books from the ashes, but seldom with success.

Fire Starts on Ranch
The fire started on a ranch in Wild Cat Canyon, four miles back in the hills, according to investigators.

The story told by the owners of the ranch was that the wind blew a high tension wire from its tower fastening. The cable withering in dry, extremely inflammable grass, started the flames destined to do untold damage.

The same swift wind drove the flames at a startling rate toward the rim of the Berkeley valley, then swooped down upon 600 homes.

Flames leaped from house to house almost before the occupants could evacuate them.

Loss to public utilities will run into high figures. Practically all poles in the burned area will have to be replaced. Those now standing are burned beyond usefulness.

Street cars will be unable to run in the district until new feed lines are installed. Trolley wires hung within a few feet of the ground this morning.

Surveys Ruined District
Fire Chief Sidney Rose and a squad of police made a survey of the scene this morning and reported they believed the damage would run above the $5,000,000 mark, exclusive of the contents of houses.

Rose said the average value of homes destroyed was approximately $8,000,000.

Fifty automobiles were reported to police as having burned and police believe three times this number must have been lost.

Rose said he considered 600 as too low a figure on the number of buildings burned and that he thought it would run nearer to 1,000.

The burned area is roughly bounded by Hearst avenue on the south; Oxford street on the west and the city limits on the north and east.

Among the homeless are 1500 students of the University of California, today's figures showed.

Many stories of persons who may have lost their lives were coming to the authorities throughout the morning. None of these have been confirmed and no bodies have been found.

J. Kigan reported he saw a man burned to death in a house on Keith avenue.

Refuses to Leave Home
Student guards say that a n aged woman refused to leave her home on Arch Street when it was damaged.

Police Sergeant Frank Swain declared he saw the roof of a house collapse with a man standing on it.

Another report to police was that four university students died trying to save their fraternity house.

SPEED 'MANIAC' SOUGHT IN BOY CRASH CASE

Left in the road to die late yesterday, presumably by a speed "maniac" who had struck and seriously injured him, Robert Brickman, 14-year-old Orange youth, lay at the county hospital here today in a painful condition, while county authorities sought the suspected motorist.

The youth was found unconscious, near his bicycle, by J. W. Honey of McPherson. Honey removed the youth from a road near Orange to the home of Mrs. A. W. Myers, 437 North Laveta avenue. A physician found that the youth had a possible concussion of the brain, beside abrasions about the side and hip.

Young Brickman later was taken to the county hospital where today he was said to be conscious and improving nicely.

According to records at the hospital, Brickman's mother is dead, but his father, whose initials were not made known, lived in Orange. The youth was living at 454 North Laveta avenue, hospital data had it. The mishap is a blank so far as the boy's memory was concerned, it was added.

No clue as to the identity of the motorist who was suspected in the case and who was asserted to have fled, had been uncovered, authorities here said.

Testifies to Finding Murder Victim's Body

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The man who first found the bullet pierced body of young Clarence Peters lying beside an obscure road in the Bronx was heard when the murder case against Walter S. Ward, the millionaire baker's son, opened today.

Duncan Rose, the first witness for the prosecution when the actual trial got under way, described how he came upon the dead form of Peters as he was driving to work on the morning of May 16, 1922.

Cooked Food Sale

In carrying out the plan by which each section of the W. T. U. will shortly offer a cooked food sale, the north-west section will hold a sale at the D. L. Anderson grocery on East Fourth street, Saturday, September 22 beginning at 10 a. m.

All members and friends of the section have been asked to contribute to the supply of delicacies and to have them at the grocery at an early hour. The proceeds will go to aid in raising the year's budget.

$10,000 BUILDING PERMIT

A permit was issued here this afternoon to Gerrard Brothers for remodeling of the two rooms at 302 and 304 East Fourth street to adapt them to plans the brothers have for enlarging their business at 304. Alterations will cost approximately $5000, the permit indicated. New fixtures will increase the improvement program costs to about $10,000, W. A. Gerrard, manager, stated. Frederick Eley, architect, will direct the improvements.

The university, said he was positive an aged man and a woman died when they returned to their burning house in search of possessions.

The region swept by fire was about three quarters of a mile wide along the north side of the University of California campus. The Y. M. C. A. student organization and the Red Cross combined in the work of relieving the homeless.

Six students who had been confined in the University infirmary were badly injured.

Many Are Injured
Scores were treated for minor injuries, so many that no count was kept.

Houses of Berkeley were thrown open to parties of refugees today while hundreds slept in university buildings.

Approximately one thousand college girls, wearing kitchen aprons, begrimed with smoke, assisted the Red Cross this morning, while 600 others had donned knickerbockers and went out to fight brush fires that were the cause of the conflagration and that still burned ominously.

Berkeley presented a remarkable picture this morning. The fire had burned so fiercely, developing such intense heat that hardly could the flames of the destroyed homes be distinguished. Some of the homeless who returned to the scene had difficulty in picking out their late domiciles.

All during yesterday fire departments of the east bay cities had been answering calls to hundreds of fires. The Oakland fire department answered 50 calls in 46 minutes.

One of these, whipped by the strong gale blowing, got beyond control of the thousands who helped fight it and was subdued only by the use of dynamite. Students of the university rallied to prevent destruction of their campus.

Monday Club Names Junior High School Chief As President

H. G. Nelson, principal of the Francis E. Willard junior high school, today was the recognized head of the Monday club, following the election of officers at a meeting held last night at the home of E. M. Neally, at Tustin.

The club followed its custom of progressing officers. Nelson was vice-president last year. Ed Hummel was elevated from secretary-treasurer to vice-president and L. R. McMullen, of the high school faculty, was chosen secretary-treasurer.

L. L. Beeman, head of the history department of the high school, presented a paper on "pioneers" as they relate to mental and physical developments. Edison and Ford were mentioned as representing the physical development side.

The meeting last night was the first since the suspension of sessions for the summer vacation period. The next meeting will be held at the same place October 8. A. B. Gardner will present the paper, his subject probably being "Conditions in Italy."

Burglar Takes $5 In Raid On Local Home

Leaving burned match stubs throughout the house, a burglar escaped with $5 in currency, several trinkets and a check book from the home of F. L. Woodhouse, 707 South Flower street, last night, according to a police report made here today.

SWING AGREES TO OPEN WAR ON GEM TAX

Repeal the 5 per cent revenue tax on jewelry is the plea to be brought before congress by Representative Phil Swing, of El Centro, following a meeting held at St. Ann's Inn here today with members of the Orange County Jewelers association. A. B. Kennedy, chairman of the association, of Garden Grove, presided.

More than twenty Orange county jewelers, representative of the association, met with Congressman Swing and urged his support in bringing about a repeal of the war tax on jewelry. The assemblyman promised his support.

"Seventy per cent of all jewelry is as much of a necessity today as recognized staples," declared E. P. Smith of Smith and Bishop, a local jewelers firm, who opened the discussion of the question.

"Why should the purchaser of an alarm clock be charged a luxury tax? The alarm clocks and other articles of that character carried in the jeweler's stock still carry a war tax."

"Soft drinks and expensive rugs no longer saddle the dealer and buyer with a war tax."

Smith outlined many other articles from the standpoint of luxury or necessity and compared them with jewelry values.

Congressman Swing agreed with the speaker that the tax should be repealed.

FRESNO, Sept. 15.—Taking up the role of big brother, the Fresno post of the American Legion has decided to sponsor a troop of Boy Scouts of America in this city. The following scout committee has been named by the post: Austin M. Healey, Neil Ellis, Lawrence Raymond, Harry Wishard and Howard Greenlin.

BATTERY CASE TO BE HEARD BY JURY

For the first time this year a jury trial today was scheduled to be held in the city recorder's court here.

Stanley Romero, charged with assault and battery, a misdemeanor, by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Apolonario Cuevas, through his attorney, Ben Tarver, entered a plea of not guilty at a court hearing late yesterday and requested a jury trial.

Judge Leopold Goepper therefore sent out a constable into the highways and byways to secure 24 prospective jurors. From the 24 men, a jury of Romero's peers were to be chosen. City Attorney Z. B. West Jr., was to conduct the prosecution.

Romero gained fame when he stopped a bullet with his teeth. His father-in-law, following the alleged assault of Mrs. Cuevas, fired a shot at Romero, according to police information. Romero received the full impact of the bullet on his front teeth. He spat out four teeth and the bullet. He was wearing a medical covering over the wound in his upper lip when he appeared in court.

Charles E. Carrillo, court interpreter, was retained to aid Judge Goepper and the jury in learning the series of incidents that led to the asserted manhandling of a well-intentioned mother-in-law.

The court was to be called to order at 2 p. m.

SCIENTISTS IN ## JAPAN AID

Pointing out that Santa Ana members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, had made liberal contributions to relieve refugees in the devastated sections of Japan, Frank V. Hoffman of this city today said that authorization for the purchase and immediate shipment of $10,000 worth of supplies for Japan was telegraphed from Boston to Seattle a few days ago by the Christian Science board of directors.

Concerning the activity of the organization in this relief work, the Christian Science Monitor, under date of January 10, says:

"To get the prompt action so important at such a time the directors wired instructions to buy foodstuffs and obtain transportation and tomorrow one of the first individual relief cargoes from the United States will start from the Pacific coast.

"In this instance, as in other contributions to follow, there will be no overhead charges, the entire amount going directly for relief purposes, because the work of distribution will be under the supervision of the Christian Science society of Yokohama.

"This morning the board of directors received a telegram from Eugene Hunt, a prominent Christian Scientist of Seattle, Wash., stating that the following supplies for Japanese relief are available for shipment within three days:

1500 cases of small size beans;
2500 cases of medium size and 2000 cases of large size; 10,000 pounds of California small white beans; and 300 cases of macaroni in twenty-four eight-ounce packages; 7000 cases of kippered herring and 6000 cases of pink salmon, Seattle clear ance charges additional, but possibly will be waived. Ocean space will be donated if any part of the above is desired. Send fast wire."

"In a wire authorizing Mr. Hunt to undertake the purchase of foodstuffs from the list submitted by him, the board of directors this morning said, 'further shipments expected to follow.' This original purchase will amount to $10,000, and permission is granted Mr.
Hunt to draw on the account of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., for the full amount spent.

"Mr. Hunt is directed to ship directly to the Christian Science Society of Yokohama, which will handle the distribution in Japan. The selection of the food purchased is left entirely in the hands of Mr.
Hunt and his assistants in Seattle, while the distribution of the supplies will be made entirely through Christian Science agencies."

activities committee of the Orange county council, Boy Scouts of America, will broil the steaks tonight at the first fall meeting of scoutmasters and leaders at Orange county park, it was announced today by Roland E. Dye, county scout executive. Discussion of programs for fall and winter will occupy the business period of the meeting.
Sixty boy scout workers are expected to attend.

R. P. Mitchell, county school superintendent, today expected immediate returns on his circulars to county schools calling for attendance reports. The county school register will be made up following returns of the attendance circulars to the superintendent's office, it was said.

Manual training teachers, under supervision of A. E. Oliver, high school manual training director, are scheduled to hold a meeting today at 7:30 p. m. at the office of the board of education with J.

Thursday, October 11, has been scheduled as a big day in the activities of the Garden Grove farm center, it was learned today from A.
M. Stanley, secretary manager of the Orange county farm bureau. At a meeting of the farm center last night plans were made to hold a banquet and "jubilee" at the women's clubhouse at Garden Grove on the designated date.

The Dixie Oil Filling Stations company of California which is said to be contemplating the opening of several filling stations in Santa Ana, began work on the site for their proposed filling station at Orange today. Work of removing the curbs and leveling the ground at the intersection of South Lemon street and Chapman avenue in that city was begun.

"Back to normalcy" will be celebrated at a dinner of the Yorba officers and directors urged to be present but all those interested in the work will be welcome, according to announcement mailed by the secretary, Miss Hazel Nell Bemus.

No more tickets are available for the banquet to be given at the First Christian church tonight when the Aid society will honor the Rev. and Mrs. F. T. Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hummel. So eager have members and friends of the society been to attend the affair that the original 200 tickets available were disposed of several days ago. A second set of tickets to accommodate many more persons has also been sold and Mrs.

with the granting of a permit to

INCORPORATE
LA HABRA

La Habra's hope of incorporation, as an immediate step, vanished here today when the board of supervisors ruled that the proceedings in connection with the La Ha-bra petition must be governed by a new state law, which automatically reduces the territory subject to incorporation actually to subdivide lands.

In view of this condition, which was said to make the project of incorporating impractical, the La Ha-bra petitioners would abandon proceedings, it was announced by Attorney Z. B. West Jr., representing adherents of the plan.

When objectors to the proposal raised the point of jurisdiction at an earlier hearing on the petition, the question simmered down to a decision on that point, which was made today.

Attorney West and the petitioners had taken the stand that, by filing the petition June 15, one day before the amended law took effect, they could proceed under the old law.

Objectors, represented by Attorneys Clyde Bishop, H. C. Head and others, contended that, inasmuch as the petition did not come before the board for hearing until June 24, the proceedings must be governed by the new law.

The old law, it was shown, gave the supervisors discretionary powers to determine what lands might be included. Owners who objected to being included must file objections and, even then, might be included if the board saw fit.

Under the new law, as quoted, all unsubdivided acreage was automatically excluded, unless the owners actively petitioned to be included. The supervisors received no discretionary powers.

This drastic change, in view of the board's ruling that the new law governed proceedings, not only served the purpose of those property owners who actively objected, but removed from the remaining territory under consideration a large percentage of the total area to be incorporated, it was shown.

OUTLINE HOSPITAL

CAMPAIGN SEPT. 20

The citizens' committee to have charge of the campaign to raise additional funds for the building here by the Santa Ana Valley Hospital association of a new hospital building and plant will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the office of A. J. Visel, 601 North Main street, S. H. Finley, chairman of the committee, announced today.

The meeting is for the purposes of discussing methods for raising the money necessary to complete the project. It is understood this sum is approximately $150,000.
Including the community hospital property on East Washington avenue, the company now has $125,000, according to Dr. C.
D. Ball, president of the association.

It was pointed out that the citizens' committee has been appointed to assume charge of the drive because of the urgent request of persons who believe that Santa Ana should have a modern hospital plant financed by the general public.

Case Against 3 As

Burglars Dismissed

Harry Stevens, R. B. James and F. W. Fletcher of Brea were released here today, following dismissal of a charge of burglary that had been filed against them.
When it appeared that evidence in the case did not justify proceeding with prosecution of the charge, the district attorney's office moved dismissal, which motion was granted by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, upon arraignment of the defendants today.

The defendants had been accused of breaking into a billiard hall at Brea where Stevens, who is a negro, was employed as bootblack.

Alleged Mixture Of Distillate, Gas Is Told In Court Suit

Court attachés who happen to own automobiles were shuddering today as they recalled testimony given at the trial of the Anaheim Oil company suit against the Chain Service station at Whittier, in which the oil company was awarded a claim for $687, alleged to be due for gas and oil supplied to the service station.

The plaintiff's testimony included the declaration that, on orders from the service station, they were accustomed to unloading gasoline and distillate into the same tank, to be sold to motorists as gasoline.

The defense did not appear to contest the case and it was rumored in court that the station had "gone out of business." Superior Judge R. Y. Williams awarded the plaintiff judgment late yesterday.

ARTISTS GIVE RADIO TREAT

A metropolitan program was enjoyed by KFAW listeners in last night when a number of Fullerton artists broadcast a generous and varied musical entertainment from The Register studio.
The program was one of general excellence, so much so that it would be difficult to pick out any one of the artists as the star of the evening.

Miss Ruth M. Peschel, soprano, and Julian A. Marshall, tenor, were the vocalists. Ronald B.
Collis, violinist, Harry Brace and Miss Alla Bollen, pianists, and Ted Corcoran, xylophonist, offered the instrumental numbers. Dr.
George L. McClelland, who arranged the program, gave an interesting four-minute talk on "Conservation of Vision."

The program in its entirety included these numbers:

WARN 35 TO GET

LIGHTS ADJUSTED

Launching a drive against glaring headlights on the highways, Orange county members of the state motor vehicle squad today reported a total of thirty-five cars, rounded up for improper headlight adjustment, as the fruit of the first evening's work.

The local squad was at work last evening on headlights and those motorists who were halted for such delinquency were directed to the nearest official adjusting station, fourteen of which have been established in the county.

"We are making no arrests for first offenses," Henry Warner, captain, stated today. "The traffic will be given a chance to eliminate the glaring lights before any punishment is meted out."

REJECT LIGHTING SYSTEM BIDS

SOLONS REJECT C. OF C. PARK SITE OFFER

Deciding that sentiment in the city was apparently against purchase of the site, the city council here last night virtually rejected the offer of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce to transfer to the city, for $1000 an acre, plus carrying charges, its thirty-acre tract at the corner of Fairview avenue and Bristol streets for use as a city park.

At the same time, acting on a motion put by George McPhee, fourth ward councilman, the trustees passed a resolution requesting the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants and Manufacturers' association to appoint a committee of three from each organization to co-operate with the city planning commission in formulating a recommendation to the council as to some definite site.

Referring to the Fairview avenue tract, McPhee said:

"There seems to be no great demand on the part of the citizens for this property as a site for a park. I have queried many people as I have met them on the street. Only two have made favorable comment on this site."

"On the contrary, 143 expressed themselves against the calling of an election to vote bonds for the purchase of this tract."

"I don't care if I offer myself as a sacrifice, and, therefore, I move that the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants and Manufacturers' association be requested to appoint a committee of three from each body to co-operate with the city planning commission in recommending something definite to this council."

What Santa Ana Folk Chance to Be Doing

After spending the summer here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Madden, 1109 North Broadway, Miss Mildred Murphy left last week via the California Limited for New York City where she will enter upon her psycho-analytical duties as a member of the state commission. Her duties will take her all over the state and to every important city which maintains a clinic. Miss Murphy, despite her extreme youth, is making an enviable place for herself in the world of science and has the honor of being one of five government-certified psychologists in the United States.

After a delightful little visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ludwig, custodians of Santa Ana Auto Park camp, Wallace Ludwig took his departure late last week for his home at Corning. While here he had the pleasure of aiding in a birthday celebration honoring Mr. Ludwig sr. when Mrs. Ludwig entertained at a 30 dinner with covers placed for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cumberland of Orange, Wallace Ludwig and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ludwig.

Thomas H. Feeley, grand knight of the Knights of Columbus, has returned from an extended Eastern trip.

The many friends of Lyle Roberts, popular Santa Ana musician, who has been so seriously ill, will be glad to know he has recovered sufficiently to spend a few weeks at Laguna Beach accompanied by his mother, and his nurse, Miss Freda Lord.

Mrs. H. W. Nicholson, wife of the Rev. H. W. Nicholson of the Christian church at Leroy, Kansas, arrived Friday for a visit with her brothers, Robert L. Smith and William H. Smith and their mother at 620 East Second street. She came over the Denver and Rio Grande, stopping to visit with some of the Rev. Mr. Nicholson's relatives in Colorado. This is her first visit to California. She had not seen her mother for three years, nor her brother Robert for more than eighteen years.

Leaving yesterday for Camp Baldy, Mrs. Ella Lash of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Logsdon of Long Beach planned to enjoy a week's outing at the mountain resort. Mrs. Logsdon will be remembered by many local friends as Mrs. Magill, formerly of Santa Ana. Mrs. Lash was one of a party of former Iowans who on Sunday motored to Arcadia to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harmon and renew an Iowa friendship. Others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Johnson and Mrs. Maude Lash and son James.

Masonic and Eastern Star circles will welcome the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lott Cori who recently arrived from Nogales, Ariz., to make their home here where Mr. Cori will be associated with W. W. Kays in the Ramona building. Mrs. Cori is past matron of Unity chapter No. 13, O. E. S. of Nogales and past Ada of the Arizona grand chapter while her husband is a past patron of O. E. S. and also past master of Nogales Lodge No. 11, F. and A. M.

Four delightful months, two spent in Iowa and two in Colorado were brought to a conclusion by the return late last week of Mrs. William L. Tubbs of 106 East Eleventh street. While in Colorado as the guest of her sister, Mrs. M. S. Merrill of Boulder, Mrs. Tubbs enjoyed various wonderful mountain trips. In Iowa she visited both Mr. Tubbs' relatives and her own and returning home made brief stops at Omaha, Nebraska, and other western points.

TRIAL DEFERRED

Trial of Manuel Guzman, Delhi, on charge of having liquor in his possession was postponed today by Justice J. B. Cox, who continued the case to October 19 at 2 p. m.

PLAN TO WIDEN FRUIT STREET IS BROACHED

With members of the city council declaring that Fruit street some day will be a main artery into the city from the northeast, and that it will become an industrial center, City Engineer W. G. Knox today had instructions from the city solons to make investigations with reference to the possibility of widening the street from forty to sixty feet from Grand avenue to Santiago street. The widening proposal was referred to the committee of the whole, with the engineer detailed to make investigations as to the best plan to pursue.

Preparations are being made for paving the street between the points named. Widening was discussed from two angles, the taking of ten feet from private holdings on each side of the street, or taking the needed ground entirely from the north side.

It was pointed out that possibly the easiest course would be to take all the ground from the north side of the street. There are few improvements on this side. The county also owns a large piece of frontage property recently purchased for the proposed new juvenile home. One or two small houses occupied by Mexicans may have to be moved, it was said.

On the south side, among other improvements, is the big warehouse of the county, built parallel with the street, and buildings of the Shell Oil company. It was pointed out that the damage to established properties would be greater on this side than on the north.

SOIL MOISTURE IS STUDIED BY BUREAU

Anticipating the dry desert winds of fall, the Agricultural Extension Service and Orange county farm bureau today began a series of four soil moisture meetings to discuss relation of wind injury to soil moisture conditions. H. E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor, announced today.

Soil borings were made and interpretations given on the moisture conditions found this season.

Opportunity was given at the gathering for questions, which proved valuable features of the field meetings, it was learned.

Two meetings were held today, according to schedule, one at Villa Park at the place of W. H. Peterkin at 10 a. m. and one at Fullerton at the place of L. A. Hampton. Two meetings are programmed for tomorrow, the first at 10 a. m. on the property of Allen Brothers, 84 mile north of Garden Grove on the boulevard. The second meeting at 2 p. m. to be held at the residence of T. H. Smith, Prospect avenue, 1/4 mile south of Seventh street.

Placentia Sanitary District Hearing On

Petition for the formation of a sanitary district, at Placentia was before the board of supervisors here today for hearing. Attorney Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana represented the petitioners.

A protest, signed by a number of the outlying property owners, was filed through Attorney H. C. Head of this city.

Suspended Sentence Given In Whip Case

Mrs. Lenora Rodriguez, of Cypress, was today under a suspended sentence of thirty days in the county jail, following her trial before Justice J. B. Cox here late yesterday on a charge of battery. The charge was filed in connection with an alleged whipping administered by Mrs. Rodriguez to her sister Mildred Stone, 12, who was in the care of Mrs. Rodriguez at the time.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Louis McKee, of The Register staff, have returned home from an extended trip throughout the East and South, including a visit to Mr. McKee's old home town, Asheville, N. C.

Fresno Thieves Even Steal Alarm Clock

KINGSBURY, Sept. 18.—Robbers took even the alarm clock when they looted the home of Robert Williams on Tenth avenue here while the family was away, according to a report made to the police yesterday. The robbers gained entrance through the front door and took clothing, underwear, bedding, a diamond ring and diamond scarf pin. Constable Boyle and Officers Newman and Haddigan investigated. The loot was valued at between $300 and $400.

State Golf Champ Weds Follies Girl

PASADENA, Sept. 18.—Jack Neville, golf champion of California, and Miss Margaret Gilligan, who was formerly "Peggy Underwood" of the Follies, were married at the home of friends here. The couple are now at the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles on their honeymoon. Neville was a member of the American team which went to England recently and won the Walker cup. He formerly lived in Northern California.

Council In Approval Of Same Building Code For All Cities

Indicating approval of the plans of the Orange County Builders' exchange to develop a uniform building code in the incorporated cities of Orange county, the city council last night approved appointment of a committee to act in conjunction with similar committees, to be appointed by other councils, to draft proper ordinances.

The committee named by Tubbs consists of Tom Weston, contractor; W. O. Packard, electrician, and Lamont McFadden, plumber. The board was requested to appoint one man from each of the three building trades mentioned.

To plumbing ordinance, recently prepared by the city attorney and referred to local plumbers for criticism, was returned to the council last night by McFadden. He pointed out that very few changes had been made and that these had to do mostly with technical terms.

The ordinance was referred back to the city attorney. It will be presented and adopted at a later meeting.

What To Do With City $10,000 Interest Sum Is Puzzle To Council

The city council today had to decide what it would do with $10,093 received last night, by check, from the First National bank, as 2 percent interest on daily cash balances of city money for the past year. Whether this money should go to the general fund or bond funds, is a point upon which the city attorney is in doubt. He will clear it up before the next meeting, by making investigation of law points covering the matter.

MAN'S DESTINY UNALTERABLE IS CLAIM

LONDON, Sept. 18.—A curious and not too cheerful theory has just been advanced by Sir Arthur Keith, Conservator of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, and one of the world's great scientists and thinkers. These words embody it: "Man's destiny is written in the germ plasma from which he springs. Nothing we can say or do will alter our evolutionary fate."

Religion Involved.

All this came out in an address by Sir Arthur to a small and select highly scientific audience at Charing Cross hospital. His subject was "Teleology and Evolution." He declared that the theory of predestination is absolutely accurate and incontrovertible, although he does not in any sense accept that of religionists who hold that each child when born foreordained to live onward to a fate of future reward or punishment, heaven or hell, decided on by the Almighty before the creation of the new born soul.

Cooking Was Big Step.

"Not only is it true," says Sir Arthur, "that nothing man can say or do will alter his evolutionary destiny, but nothing he can eat or drink will do it. The discovery of fire usefulness for cooking was a great evolutionary step affecting human life, for the body, after that, had its food presented to it in a state which no animal body had experienced before. But nothing of a similar importance seems likely in the future."

"Man has come by his great gifts—his brain, his upright posture, his nimble hand—not by any effort of his own but, like a favored child of the present day, has fallen heir to a fortune for which neither he nor his ancestors have labored."

Playing of Gods.

"The human body is the vehicle of a colossal and absorbing evolutionary experiment. The future, if it is to be read at all, is to be seen in the body of the embryo." Scientists who have listened and talked with Sir Arthur leave him with a sense that they have heard something of the sort before. And then they recall some of the tales of old mythology which make man the plaything—the material for experimentation—of the gods.

Man Struck By Auto Believed Near Death

Jesus Jiminez, 39, a resident of Anaheim, was at the county hospital today in a dangerous condition suffering a fracture of the skull received when struck by an automobile near his home. Physicians at the hospital declared that he had but a slight chance of recovery. Details of the accident were not given the hospital authorities.

SUFFERED FIVE YEARS FROM KIDNEYS

"I suffered with kidney trouble for five years or more. I could not sleep at night and I was always tired after coming home from work, and my back ached," writes John R. Gordon, Danville, Ill. "I secured some FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS and after a few treatments I felt better and could work with more ease, became stronger and could sleep better." For quick relief from Backache, Rheumatic Pains, and Kidney and Bladder trouble use FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS.

ADMISSION DAY TANGLE BARED TO COUNCIL

Admission day, September 10, a legal holiday in California, dropped in at an inopportune time and threw a monkey-wrench in the city council's opening of bids and awarding a contract for the construction of ornamental lighting systems on East and West Fifth streets and West Fourth street, it was revealed to the council last night. On the advice of the city attorney, Z. B. West jr., the council rejected all bids and directed the city clerk to readvertise for proposals. Awarding of the contract will be delayed three weeks, according to the city attorney.

Bids were advertised to be opened on the evening of September 10. Three members of the council met on the designated date and opened bids, and then deferred action and adjourned to Wednesday evening, September 12. One of the council members was appointed to act as temporary clerk.

Find Bid In Safe.

When the board convened Wednesday evening it was discovered that a bid submitted by the Osborn Electric company of Turlock was received before the time expired for receipt of bids and had been placed in the safe in the clerk's office. The company's bid was $54,641. The next lowest bid was $76,334, made by the Paulson Construction company. The trustees did not know this Monday evening and they opened the bid Wednesday evening.

City Attorney West was out of the city on his vacation at the time. He returned Saturday. When advised of the action of the council late yesterday afternoon he advised the action taken last night. As the proceedings are under bond acts of 1911 and 1915, he said that the irregularity in the opening of the bids would result in voiding and invalidating the bonds.

An application from the Robertson Electric company for permission to hang an electric sign for Fred H. Rice, 403 West Fourth street, was referred to the city electrician and a request from the same company for permission to change the location of a sign at the Mater drug store was granted. Referred to McPhee.

An application from A. F. Smith, 614 East Walnut avenue, for permission to operate a popcorn stand on the American National bank corner of Fourth and Broadway, was referred to George McPhee, police commissioner, as was also the request of A. C. DeLong for a permit to establish a fruit stand at First street and Grand avenue.

L. O. Vaughan was given permission to move his gasoline station from 216 Bush street to the corner of Bush and Second streets.

The Walshe Oil company was given permission to install two 1000-gallon gasoline tanks at 114 South Main street. Ward Sutton, of this city, recently was given a permit to establish an oil station at this number.

DeWard and Cobham were granted an extension of sixty days in which to complete construction of the joint outfall sewer line. The company is building that section of the outfall extending into the ocean.

$700 Demand Filed.

Demand of Eugene Griset for $766.60 for right of way through his property for city outfall sewer and damages alleged to have been done off the right of way, was filed. According to City Engineer W. G. Knox, the claim for the ground in the right of way is $211 in excess of a court award. It was pointed out that the matter of damage to crops outside the right of way was a matter for adjustment with the contractor.

Request of J. P. Baumgartner, for reservation of four parking stalls along the Third street side of The Register building for use of carrier boys and automobiles used by The Register and A. G. Flagg for delivery purposes, was referred to Street Commissioner Nat Neff.

On recommendation of George McPhee, request from Willingham and Jacobson for a permit to operate a dance hall, billiard room and concession at 2102-S West Fifth street, was denied. It is understood that the applicants, before the recommendation, had decided to eliminate the billiard room and dance hall. They will conduct a rooming house, it was said.

To Open Restaurant. Permission was given B. L. Martin to operate a restaurant at 1727 West Fourth street.

The Salvation Army was given permission to use the office of the president of the council, in the city hall, as headquarters for its fund drive to begin here in the immediate future.

Petition for opening Oak street, McFadden to Myrtle, was carried over for one week. Further investigation is to be made as to what proportion of the unopened part of the street is represented by signers to the petition.

Consideration of petition for paving Baker street from Hickey to a point 700 feet north was deferred to the next meeting.

A petition for paving the alley running from Hickory to Halladay streets, between Walnut and Pine streets, was referred back to the petitioners with a request that efforts be made to have the work done under private contract, instead of district proceedings. Approximately 86 percent of the frontage on the alley is represented by the petitioners.

On recommendation of W. A. Packard, city electrician, Sam Hurwitz was denied permission to erect an electric sign at 212 East Fourth street. The sign is over size and denial was made because it does not conform to a city ordinance governing such signs.

Betrothals Weddings Receptions

October Wedding Date Is Anticipated For Miss Makoskey

While the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Alice Makoskey and Mr. Donald Nutt of Los Angeles has been a more or less open secret among the many friends of Miss Makoskey in this city, it has remained for Miss Virginia Russell to offer the first personal festivity in honor of the important event.

The affair planned by Miss Russell was a delightful luncheon followed by mah jongg and presented at her home, 1013 Spurgeon street, as one of the events of the latter part of the week.

Miss Russell is to be one of the members of the wedding party and others of the guests invited who will have that honor were Mrs.
Frank Makoskey of Los Angeles, who will be honor matron and Miss Mildred Nutt, bridesmaid, who, to the disappointment of all, was detained at the last minute and unable to be present.

Heavy-headed pink roses centered the single long luncheon table whose dainty appointments reflected the tints of the blossoms. The delectable menu was served in courses by the mother of the young hostess, Mrs. Otto S. Russell.
Gay little cards marked places for the hostess, Miss Russell, for the bridesmaid, Miss Makoskey and for the Misses Flora McFadden, Ruth Violetta, Norma Wingood, Isabel Anderson, Mrs. William Taylor Jr. and Mrs. Frank Makoskey.

A charming touch was given by the serving of the coffee in the living room at the close of the luncheon, Miss Russell presiding gracefully at the coffee urn arranged on a dainty tea-table.

While mah jongg formed the afternoon's diversion, the affair was marked by a delightful informality and the playing was broken by piano music with Miss Ruth Violetta offering several pleasing numbers.

Miss Makoskey, the daughter of the Herman Makoskeys of 120 East Eleventh street, is a graduate at Occidental college and University of Southern California. Last year at the presentation of "Good Gracious Annie" by the Santa Ana Community players, she revealed hitherto unsuspected histrionic ability in her character delineation when she took the part of the serving maid in a manner approaching the professional and proved herself past mistress of the art of pantomime.

Her fiancé, Mr. Nutt, a graduate of California School of Technology and a Sigma Alpha Epsilon assistant chemist for the Standard Oil company at El Segundo. The marriage of the two young people will be an event of October, it is wis-pered by their friends.

Household Economics

"Canning at Home versus Tin Canning," is the subject for Household Economics section six of Ebelle club, when members meet Friday, September 21 for a 12:30 luncheon with Mrs. Herbert M.
Sammis, 216 East Washington avenue.

Each member is requested to be prepared to answer roll-call with vacation memories, also to have some practical suggestions on the subject for the afternoon.

Aid Society

Members of the Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church will hold their first post-vacation meeting tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. F. D. Pivian, 506 South Birch street, when work for fall and winter will offer an absorbing topic for discussion.

All women members of the congregation are asked to join in the affair which will present a short business session, a program and a social hour.

Relief Corps

When members of Sedgwick Relief corps gather at G. A. R. hall Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock for their usual session, they will also hold a shower of "goodies" which will later benefit the old veterans at Sawtelle. For each member is expected to be armed with a donation of jelly, cookies or candy which on the following day will be taken to Sawtelle for distribution.

Woman's Union

A change of plan in the meeting of the northwest section of the Woman's Union of the Congregational church was responsible for a notice today to the effect that the session scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. H. J. Powell would be held instead at the church parlors.
Members are asked to note the change.

Country Club Dance

Ideal dancing weather with the air filled with the sparkle of autumn will undoubtedly attract a large crowd to the dancing party at the Country club which Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Kelley will sponsor
Thursday night.

In accordance with the program found so successful at similar affairs during the summer months, dancing will begin at 8:30 with the Chapman orchestra offering its excellent music.

Fraternal Aid Union

The usual session of the Fraternal Aid union will be held at M. W.
A. hall Friday night, September 21 at 8 o'clock. All members are expected to be present.

Matter's Drug Store has moved just around the corner on Broadway. Open for business while new building is being constructed. Matter's Drug Store, Fourth and Broadway.

News Notes of Interest To Clubwomen

Smart New Jabot Drapes Mark Many of the Frocks Designed For Autumn Wear By Leaders of Fashion

COPYRIGHT BY M. CALLS

Woman, lovely woman, has set the seal of her approval on draperies, knowing in the innermost depths of her canny soul, that their graceful lines add to the appearance of any frock.

And truly classed with drapes are the jabots that were so popular in the spring and bid fair to be even more popular this fall. They are featured on autumn models extensively, but with this difference that they appear on one side of the bodice, falling from the shoulder instead of directly in front as they were in the spring.

Pleated jabots are used on this clever tailored blouse with a yoke and dropped armholes. Pleated bell sleeves carry out the style idea. The little afternoon frock uses the same sort of drapery except that two jabots instead of one droop from the shoulder.

The shoulder drapery on the other frock is cut in one with the dress and is followed naturally by the line of the drapery of the skirt.
This is one of the most individual and graceful interpretations of the autumn styles.

Pine Cone Girl Scouts Meet With Captain, Miss Gillette

Election of officers offered much interest to members of Pine Cone Girl Scout troop when they meet recently with their captain, Miss Edith Gillette of North Main street.

Miss Gail Baldwin, as president will be assisted by Miss Margaret Witman, secretary, Miss Marcia Keeler, treasurer and Miss Loretta Spangler, chairman of committee on arrangements.

In addition to the election, the session offered much of interest from the formal opening when all repeated the Scout Promise to the relating of good turns and experiences of the summer vacation season.

Merry Games were played and plans for future meetings discussed.

Pine Cone girls present included the Misses Eleanor Ralston, Grace Pritchard, Loretta Spangler, Gail Baldwin, Mary Bruner, Marian Bruner, Marcia Keeler, Margaret Witman, Jean Nicholson, Dorothy Bayne, Mabel Robertson,
Charlotte Pritchard, Madelon
Gardner and the captain, Miss Gillette.

Small Lad Makes Fifth Generation

Master Roy Spaeth jr. is a bonny nine-year-old lad whose safe arrival on September 5 at the Los Angeles home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Spaeth has given a great deal of joy to a large family connection.

Among others to welcome the news of the young man's arrival were three generations of grandmothers who are eager to have their share in providing cookies and lollipops for a little boy.

These include Mrs. D. G. Buch-heim of Santa Clara street and Prospect avenue, this city, and her mother and grandmother, Mrs.
Sarah Burns of Des Moines, Ia., and Mrs. F. P. Fry of Keota, Ia.
Due to the fact that Mrs. Fry has passed the eighty-sixth milestone, her family discourages her making a trip to California so the present plan of Mrs. Buchheim and Mr. and Mrs. Spaeth is to take Master Roy jr. and travel to Iowa within the next few months that the five generations may be together.

Clinical Auxiliary

Mrs. Bertha Dixon, 1253 West Fourth street, will be hostess to members of the Calumet Auxiliary Social club Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present as much work for the bazaar is to be planned. Announcement was made today that famous Calumet silk quilt and comforter will not be disposed of until the October joint social meeting of Calumet camp and auxiliary, since all the books are not in.

Altar Society

Women of St. Joseph's parish will enjoy a social afternoon tomorrow as guests of Mrs. H. A.
Shugart and Mrs. F. Groy at the home of the former, 305 Fruit
street.

A cordial invitation is extended all women of the parish to gather and enjoy an afternoon of cards with playing to begin at 2 o'clock.

Ladies' Guild

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Ladies' Guild of the Church of the Messiah will meet in regular session at the parish hall.

Business Girls Hear Interesting Talk On Eastern Trip

Transported to the New England states, members of the Business and Professional Women's club yesterday visited historic old colonial houses, traveled down the Boston Post road, paused to glance at quaint fan-lights and witch crosses on colonial doorways and renewed school-day acquaintance with "The House of the Seven Gables" and "Tales of a Wayside Inn" when they listened to E. B. Sprague tell of his summer's eastern trip.

Forsaking his duties as cashier at the Orange County Trust and Savings bank in response to an invitation from Miss Doris Robbins, president of the club, Mr.
Sprague joined the members at luncheon at St. Ann's Inn and gave them a graphic account of his trip all the more interesting because of its complete informality.
From time to time, members interrupted his talk with pertinent questions and even at the luncheon's close when many of those present had to return to their offices and desks, others remained to pour yet more questions upon the astonished head of the speaker.

With vacation days almost ended, the club plans to resume the wonted activity of the winter season and yesterday's session attended by almost the full present membership, would argue that interest will be keen.

Miss Beulah May and Miss Rosa
Clausen were guests of members.
Next Monday June Hamilton Rhodes is scheduled to talk on her experiences while in New York as manager of the Deni-shawn Dancers. Her talk will also be an informal one and will offer many interesting side-lights on famous persons she met during her season in the east.

U. C. T.'s Picnic At County Park

United Commercial Travelers of Long Beach Council No. 635 held their annual picnic at Orange county park Sunday. About 300 from Long Beach, Los Angeles and Santa Ana motored to the park, where an abundance of ice cream, candy and beverages was enjoyed by all.

The afternoon was spent in indoor baseball, races for men, women and children in which the winners were awarded prizes.

Farewell Affair Given To Honor Departing U. B. Minister

Honoring the Rev. Jerome L.
Parks and Mrs. Parks was a delightful reception tendered them last night at the United Brethren church, whose pastorate the Rev.
Mr. Parks has resigned in answering the appointment to the position of state superintendent made at the recent U. B. conference.

The church was filled with friends who all joined in singing at the opening of the program directed by Mrs. C. E. Clem, chairman of the committee on general arrangements. F. B. Bullard led in prayer and then came the event of the evening when Mrs. Joseph Davis with a most pleasing little talk of appreciation, presented the honor guests with a handsome copper incense burner, standing almost a foot high. With it was a package of fine incense.

In voicing their appreciation for the gift, both the Rev. Mr. Parks and Mrs. Parks spoke of the kindness and consideration shown them during the six years pastorate and their regret at sundering ties of love and friendship.

The evening ended with a social hour during which appetizing refreshments were served by the hostess committee. Mr. and Mrs.
Parks will occupy their Balboa Island cottage temporarily that the parsonage may be in readiness to receive its new occupants. The Rev. and Mrs. Logan Harter and their four attractive children who will arrive tomorrow from San Diego where Mr. Harter has been most successful and where he was especially prominent in organized Sunday school work.

Mrs. Harter is a talented vocalist whose beautiful voice will give her entry to the city's most exclusive musical circles. Friends in all sections of the city, while loth to see the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Parks, yet rejoice with them in the call to a broader field in the state organization and stand ready to welcome their successors.

Maccabees

Mrs. Annie Arnold will offer the hospitality of her home at 405 South Birch street to members of the Women's Benefit association of the Maccabees when they meet Friday, September 21 for an all-day session.

All visiting members will be assured of a welcome. Each one attending is expected to offer a "white elephant" for the grab-bag which will form one of the amusement features. Mesdames Hosler, Margaret Goepfer and Margaret Culver constitute the hostess committee for the day.

Styleplus Clothes

There's a definite type of man who buys Styleplus.
He's the kind of man who must have Style. He's the kind of man who won't pay more, and won't pay less than is necessary to obtain really good clothes.
His logical and inevitable choice is Styleplus—the fashionable all-wool clothes that are moderate in price. Let us show you how beautifully tailored Styleplus are!

C. OF C. DIRECTORATE POSES IN COMEDY 'WHO ARE THESE BIRDS'

These pictures were taken a quarter of a century ago. If you read the accompanying little story you will find out who these men are.

S. A. PROPERTY INVALUABLE, IS SUIT CLAIM

Owners of property in Santa Ana were inferentially placed in an enviable class today by C. E. Walker, owner of land in Yucaipa valley, who asserted in a superior court action filed here that failure of his plans to trade for Santa Ana property caused him damage which "could not be compensated by any court judgment."

Local real estate men today pointed to Walker's complaint as proof of what they have always contended—that Santa Ana property is the best on earth. Walker sued Mary Kinsey Clark, owner of the Santa Ana property that he wanted, for $600 damages, but that sum was alleged to represent what he had expended in taking care of the Yucaipa land since the date an agreement was alleged to have been signed for the exchange of the Yucaipa property, 801 South Ross street, Santa Ana.

FORD OVERTURNS IN CRANKING EPISODE

JERICHO, L. I., Sept. 18.—Jokes and thousands of humorous stories have been told at the expense of Henry Ford's "tin lizzies," but Thomas Mulligan, who lives over in Manhattan at 340 Park avenue, a proud owner of a "Henry," has the best story of them all to tell as soon as he is able to be out again.

But why wait until Mulligan recovers—here is the whole story in a nutshell. Mulligan overturned his Henry and three passengers while cranking it.

Mulligan, with Mary Nutley and May Gowsy of 28 Wyckoff street, Brooklyn, and Robert Yetman of Franklin avenue, Hewlett, L. I., were taking in the scenery of Long Island when their car came to a sudden standstill right in the heart of this town. Investigation revealed the gas tank to be as dry as a ship within the three-mile limit.

2 Face Felony Charges Under Weapon Statute

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 18.—Earl Hodgkinson, who resigned as a member of the Sacramento police department, owes the price of his patrolman's uniform to his wife, and during the time they lived together she found it necessary to pay most of the household bills. The wife, Mrs. Marie Hodgkinson, said following her appearance in the police court to face a charge of disturbing the peace of Hodgkinson's mother. The charge was filed on the heels of a scene in the post office lobby in which Hodgkinson, his estranged wife and Miss Hazel Meyers, a former county hospital nurse, figured. Miss Meyers recently charged Dr. H. E. Morrison, superintendent of the hospital, with making improper advances and peeping at her garter.

Hold Youths Here For Fullerton Authorities

Thedford Cowart, 22, and Doris Lents, 20, were held at the county jail here today for Fullerton police authorities. The two young men were arrested at a Santa Ana hotel by Officer Yoder on a warrant charging passing of fictitious checks. The checks held as evidence were for small amounts and cashed by various restaurants and hotels at Placentia, the police said.

THIRD SAFETY CONTEST NOW UNDER WAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 18.—Renewal of its annual safety contests, in which $6,500 will be given away in prizes, was announced today by the Highway Education board.

Training children in habits of highway safety is the principal task of the 1923 safety campaign, it is said, but through the children it is hoped that the principles of traffic regulation and safety education will be impressed upon adults, both pedestrians and drivers alike. The third annual safety campaign takes the form of two contests, one among elementary school pupils, and another among elementary school teachers. Approximately five hundred state and national prizes are to be given for the best essays and lessons written. The prizes offered are the gifts of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, which is desirous of reducing the number of accidents and fatalities due to traffic mishaps.

Many Participants In the two previous years approximately 400,000 pupils and 50,000 teachers have participated each autumn. It is believed by school officials that the cumulative effect of these contests, and the increasing attention given to safety education will result in even a greater number of participants this year.

The subject of the essays which children are invited to write is "Highway Safety Habits I Should Learn." Essays, as last year, are not to exceed five hundred words in length. Those eligible are pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, who are not more than fourteen years of age. The contest opens with the beginning of school, and closes December 4, 1923.

Teachers are requested to submit safety lessons on "Training Children in Habits of Safety on the Highways." The limit suggested is between 1,000 to 3,000 words. All elementary school teachers in the eighth and lower grades are eligible to submit lessons.

First Award $500 In the teachers' contest the first national award is $500 and a trip to Washington with all expenses paid. The second national award is $300, while the third award is $200.

The first national prize for the best essay by pupils is a gold medal and a trip to Washington with all expenses paid. The second state prize is a silver medal and ten dollars. Third prizes, which vary in proportion to the elementary school population of the state, are bronze medals and checks for five dollars.

Complete details will be furnished upon application to the Highway Education Board, Willard Building, Washington, D. C.

We present for your approval this evening the second act in that little comedy entitled, "Who Are These Birds?"

The gentleman on the extreme left, who has apparently turned his back upon the others in the group, and who is hiding behind a Van Dyke beard that appeared to grow in spots, is no other than our honored and esteemed—

Second in line, the full-faced individual, who probably had his picture taken while he was on his way to the barber shop to get the haircut of which he was in great need, and whose moustache was not modeled after that of the ex-kaiser, is—

Last, but not least, he with the open front collar, the spreading necktie, the drooping moustache, the wild stare and the doctile disposition, is—

Now, going back to the beginning, you may not believe it, but the first character in this little comedy of errors, is J. C. Joplin, who has been custodian of Orange county's finances almost continuously since this favored spot won a place on the map.

Second down the line is E. B. Smith, pioneer Santa Ana jeweler. Last, but not least, as we said before, we have with us this evening none other than Charles ("Ed") Parker, president of the Orange County Title company.

The camera caught the gentlemen twenty-five years ago. That was when all were members of the Chamber of Commerce directorate.

WIG FAD GRIPS FAIR SEX AT DEAVILLE

DEAVILLE, Sept. 18.—The wearing of wigs has become the latest feminine fad here because of the scarcity of coiffeurs and hairdressers.

The leading Paris wigmakers state that they are sold out in their replies to beauty parlor orders to rush transformations here. In response to telegraphed orders to London an airplane arrived this morning with a dozen wigs, which were purchased immediately, although they did not match their owner's hair.

There are only four first-class hairdressers here and they are stormed nightly by hundreds of wealthy women, all wearing a wave. Late comers have to wait hours, resulting in their missing dinner engagements.

American women particularly are embracing the wig fad, as French women usually stretch their hair straight back in the Spanish style when they are not able to get a wig. Startling green, white, red and blue wigs, made for theatrical use, are being worn by society women unable to find wigs matching their own hair.

13 OPERATIONS FOR YOUTH IN 10 YEARS

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Sept. 18.—After spending ten of his thirteen years in and out of hospitals, Stanley Spanutius of this city is on the road to recovery at the Sacred Heart hospital. The boy was injured on the eve of his third birthday while playing around his father's office in the du Pont powder works at Hastings-on-the-Hudson.

The boy's father, the late Professor F. W. Spanutius, at one time a member of the faculty at Lehigh university, was employed as chief chemist at the plant and it was his custom to take the boy down to his office. One morning while playing, Stanley fell down a flight of stairs, breaking his legs in four places. A physician in Hastings, however, set the broken member so poorly that blood poisoning set in and a portion of the leg had to be amputated.

The operation was performed at St. John's hospital, New York City, where he was confined for several months and finally discharged. Since that time he has been a patient at ten or more institutions, so numerous, in fact, that when asked their names and the period he had spent at each, he replied, "I can't remember all of them."

VOTE DRAINAGE BONDS FOR $160,000

Advocates of the bonding of the Newhope drainage district for $160,000 for the installation of a modern underground drainage system today were jubilant over the success of the bonds in the election held in the district yesterday, according to reports made here. The total vote of the three precincts was 76 yes and 36 no, or nine votes more than a two-thirds majority.

By precincts, the vote was as follows: No. 1—Yes, 45; no, 10. No. 2—yes, 19, no, 23; No. 3—yes, 12; no, 3.

No. 2 precinct embraced that part of the district lying between the Garden Grove boulevard, south to Fifth street and the Santa Ana river. It was said objection to the project developed because many of the voters believed the proposed plan of draining would not be successful.

According to E. R. Stillens of Garden Grove, a member of the board of directors, installation of the system will reclaim many acres of land that is now more or less water-logged because of irrigation, and will lower the water table to a depth that will make farming more successful. He predicted that increased values would result. According to Stillens, the district embraces an even 4000 acres.

The directors are scheduled to meet next Monday, at the office of Head and Rutan, attorneys for the district, and canvass the returns. Following this will be authorization for sale of the bonds. In the opinion of A. W. Rutan, it probably will be sixty days before the bonds can be sold. It is said that, as soon as the bond money is in hand, bids will be asked for installation of the system.

S. F. NEWSPAPER CIRCULATOR IS SLAIN IN ROW

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—Louis Bacclocca, 23, newspaper circulator, was shot and killed while attempting to avert an altercation.

Bacclocca was pronounced dead on arrival at the Central Emergency hospital, one shot having taken effect.

"Eddie" Neilas, recently accused of kidnapping a witness in the narcotic case of "Salvation Nell" Barry in the federal court, is sought by the police as the actual slayer, and Ray Brucker, prize fighter, is sought as the other fugitive.

Hold-Up Charged The shooting took place in the basement of The Chronicle. Brucker and Neilas entered the basement, and James Castiglio, 86 Colton street, another circulator, accused Brucker of having held up his wife and robber her of $40. Castiglio said his wife also told him that Brucker robbed a neighbor.

Brucker denied this and Castiglio removed his coat and invited him to fight. Bacclocca interfered and appeared to have settled the dispute. He began counting money when the fight broke out afresh. Neilas is alleged to have attempted to step in, and Bacclocca pushed him aside and then started for the combatants. When his back was turned, Neilas is alleged to have drawn an automatic and fired five shots, two at Castiglio and three at Bacclocca, hitting the latter. Then Neilas and Brucker fled, the former firing one more shot at those who attempted to follow.

Second Shooting Another shooting took place half an hour later, when the police were informed that the two fugitives immediately after the shooting appeared in the apartment of Fred Pritchett, 1651 Market street. Detective Sergeants Thomas Conlon and Thomas Reggan sped there in the hope of catching the fugitives. Pritchett was alone in the place when they arrived and refused to hold up his hands. Conlon shot him in the leg and after he was treated at the Emergency hospital he was arrested for violating the prohibition law, liquor having been found in the apartment. Bacclocca lived with his parents at 543 Filbert street.

'White City' Is Hit By Yellow Jaundice Peril

EUREKA, Sept. 18.—Arcata, known as the white city from the fact that the majority of houses are painted white, has sought the aid of the District Attorney in an effort to head off an attack of yellow jaundice. The houses, the citizens declare, are turning yellow under the influence of sulphur fumes from a crematory, where acid is used in the manufacture of casein. A restraining order is sought.

Auto Used as Wardrobe And Hotel, Too, Taken

FRESNO, Sept. 18.—A. S. Shultz, an employee of Miller & Lux at Los Banos, is without a place to sleep, change of clothing or a means of transportation as the result of the theft of his automobile here, he reported to the police. His touring car, containing articles of wearing apparel, and which he uses both as an automobile and a hotel on his journeys from one job to another, was stolen here.

Greek Pronounces Name to Judge As Court Punishment

INDIAN HARBOR, Ind., Sept. 18.—Judge H. C. Cleveland could not obtain any substantial evidence against Louis Chromokopolis, a Greek.

"I'm going to punish you anyway," said his honor. "I'm going to make you pronounce your own name."

The prisoner performed the feat and was released.

CONSTITUTION PROGRAMS SET FOR CLUBS

With the Rotary club today presenting a "Constitution Week" program, the Kiwanis club scheduled to do likewise tomorrow and the Lions club the following day, members of luncheon clubs of the city were expected to be better informed on the provisions of the constitution, it was pointed out today by a member of the Kiwanis club, which organization instituted the observance one year ago.

M. B. Wellington will discuss the constitution at the Kiwanis club meeting at St. Ann's Inn tomorrow, and Overton Luhr, high school student, will give a five minute talk on "What the Constitution Means to the Young Man."

"An understanding of the principles of the constitution, even a cursory examination into what privileges citizens of this country have, is bound to result in a deeper respect for it, and in an Americanism that cannot be shaken," said L. R. Crawford, secretary of the Kiwanis club.

"If there are two things we need to know more about, these are the constitution and the courts of the United States. Indeed, the time is here when our people should study this document and understand it better. We want to Americanize America."

"To overcome the poisonous propaganda that is being promoted throughout the country, and to stamp out these false theories of government which make the people reverse their government less, Kiwanians must fight and fight hard. The more respect there is for constitutional authority and the more this respect is developed to a fundamental characteristic of the individual and nation, the less attention need we give to lawlessness—the poison which deadens the nation's moral fibre."

"There is every rational reason for unbounded faith in America. It seems, however, that negative feelings do exist, varying from ordinary carelessness, or lack of thought, through pessimism and cynicism, to actual antagonism, regarding the government. More faith and more courage are needed, in addition to a greater knowledge of the fundamentals and purposes of the government."

STUDENT TOUR OF EUROPE IS SUCCESSFUL

STOCKTON, Sept. 18.—The European tour for Stockton high school history students, said to be the first of its kind attempted by a prep school in the United States, was a marked success and will be made an annual affair, declares Professor John G. Iliff, head of the history department of the local institution, who supervised the trip. About twenty boys made the tour. Lectures by Professor Iliff were included in the trip and a credit in history was given those who composed the party.

The party left here before the close of school in June, making stops at all principal United States cities, including Washington and New York. In England prohibition was found to be one of the paramount topics, according to Professor Iliff. He said: "It seems the English are trying to fight it off at every step, but the anti-liquor movement appears to be gaining."

"France," Professor Iliff said, "is making loans to many European countries to secure military equipment. This money does not leave France, but goes to French munition and supply houses. These loans have been manipulated in such a way that France practically has those countries under its control."

The Iliff party had the good fortune to be in Berlin at the time talk of revolt was the most current after the sensational drop of the mark.

Austria was found to apparently be in better condition than Germany.

According to Professor Iliff, everywhere in Europe there is a general expectancy of another war, and many are leaving the continent to avoid it.

The party included, besides Professor Iliff, Howard Gardner, Willard Glotting, Henry Coffin, Percy Dyer, Monroe Eaton, Carrol Craig, "Sunny" Johnson, Hubert McNoble, Oliver Fisk, Reginald Richardson, Charles Hoey, Warren Littlefield, Ed Smith, Russell Yost, John Boggs, Donald and Ed Carr, John Hodgkins and Ira Van Vleet.

Mother of Six Sent To Jail, Takes Baby

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Clasping tightly her year-old baby, who will accompany her to the workhouse for ten days, Mrs. Helen Butler was sentenced by Magistrate Frothingham in Harlem court on a disorderly conduct charge. It was charged that Mrs. Butler, janitress of an apartment house, was frequently intoxicated and that her six children were neglected and undernourished.

Woman Fears Question of Future Punishment Is Apt to Be Avoided

By ELEANOR ELLIOTT

Attention of biblicists and biblesophiles just now is directed toward Chicago where, in accordance with the usual custom of faculty members of Northwestern university, the semi-annual sensation has been sprung. It is the announcement that Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed of the university, has in readiness for the publishers his translation of the New Testament, done in modern "Americanese."

Dr. Goodspeed, arguing that the average person of today finds the language of the Bible far too stilted and many of the phrases so obscure in meaning that intelligent understanding is well-nigh impossible, has re-written the entire New Testament in such form that it is held to be readily understandable.

The attitude of various students and thinkers in Santa Ana varies remarkably, some feeling that Dr. Goodspeed is entirely justified in his contention that the archaic wording of the Bible prevents its thorough understanding by the mass of humanity. Others assert that therein lies a great part of its beauty to the careful student and the thinker.

Favors Simplicity

Edward M. Neale, scholar and philosopher, former dean of Santa Ana junior college—I am deeply in favor of anything that will simplify the Scripture for the masses. We do our thinking in the language of today, not in the language of the Elizabethan period; therefore, our reading should be along the lines of our thinking. I feel a deep interest in the Goodspeed translation.

Mrs. R. A. Cushman, attorney—It seems to me that the Bible should be treated exactly as other translations—it should be fitted to the understanding of the current time. So far as an actual translation into terms easily understood by the average reader is concerned, I have often wished that someone would offer it to the world, for there seems a very real need for it. It would prove valuable to those who have not the time to decipher the meaning behind the stilted, though beautiful, form of the ancient translations.

The Rev. Moffett Rhodes, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, South—My opinion of such translation is hardly a favorable one, though I use the three accepted modern translations in my studies and research. It is well known that a certain translation of Mike, a foundling. Inset, a footprint of a baby and fingerprint of its mother, which form one of the best present methods of identification.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—A baby lay in a foundling's cradle, another child of mystery, of parentage unknown.

She had been left at a day nursery by a young woman, who promised to come back soon. But she never came.

Suddenly came thought of the missing Lillian McKenzie baby, stolen from the streets of New York, August 18. The father was called at midnight.

He was jubilant. The baby resembled his. He thought. Its age was about the same, and so was its size. But—

He wasn't sure. He wanted the mother to come. She came. She, too, saw the resemblance. But she was confused.

Doubts grew. Hopes vanished. It was another tragedy of the incomplete identification of children.

Few Methods Used

To cut down these tragedies and make certain that each parent gets to know his own child, many methods of identification have been proposed. But only a few are actually used.

At the New York nursery and Child's hospital, where thousands are born, a fingerprint of the mother and a footprint of the baby are taken immediately after birth. These prints are recorded on one card; from it the author-

SUDDEN DEATH OF ANAHEIM MAN AIRED

Following the mysterious death in Los Angeles Monday of James Wirt of Anaheim, from the effects of poison, police of that city are investigating the possibility of another underworld "killing." It was learned here today.

Wirt, who was 24 years old, came to a spectacular end, according to officials. Driving his automobile into a garage at 623 North Broadway Los Angeles, he gave the attendant orders to have his car repaired and started to walk from the place. He had walked only a few steps when he collapsed. He was removed to a hospital, where he died a short time later.

Detectives investigating the mysterious case found that a man whose description tallied only in part with that of the dead man had purchased a quantity of poison from a North Broadway drug store

Chicago Firm Alleges Non-Delivery In Fullerton Sales Contract

The Benchley Fruit company of Fullerton was defendant today in a $20,000 damage suit filed in the superior court here by John A. Eck company, Chicago commission firm, and, likewise, in a suit for $5,000 damages brought by the same firm against the Benchley company and the First National bank of Fullerton.

Alleged failure to carry out a contract for the delivery of 100 cars of onions to the Chicago firm was cited as basis of the $20,000 action. The other suit was brought to recover $5,000, which sum the Chicago firm claimed to have posted in escrow with the bank, in connection with the onion contract. Return of the funds had been refused, it was charged.

According to papers filed in the case, W. L. Benchley of the Benchley Fruit company, acted as agent for the Coachella Valley Onion Growers' association of Coachella, in agreeing, the plaintiff alleged, to deliver 100 cars of onions at a price of 75 cents per crate, freight prepaid.

The contract was never carried out, the plaintiff asserted. Further, it was alleged, when demand was made for return of the $5,000 placed in escrow, this was refused.

Attorneys Hickox and Crenshaw of Los Angeles represent the Chicago firm in the action.

Advertising Club To Meet Here Tomorrow

The Santa Ana Advertising club will meet at Owens' cafe here at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow, Stanley Reed, secretary, announced today.

W. D. Rudd of the National Cash Register company will be the speaker, with "Salesmanship" as his topic. A general discussion will follow, according to the secretary. Pointing out that the club has a membership of forty, Reed said that a full attendance was anticipated for tomorrow evening.

He advised that the vigilance committee of the national association of advertising clubs had issued a warning to business men of the nation to beware of men who are work a fraudulent director scheme. The information received by Reed is that men are soliciting advertisements for directorates that are purely mythical.

Seek to Gain Billiard Tables In Court Here

Seeking to recover possession of billiard hall equipment sold to Hugh B. Badgley and D. G. Reed, proprietors of a billiard hall at Brea, the Pacific Billiard Table and Supply company, Los Angeles, today had filed suit in the superior court here against the Brea firm.

Return of the equipment, or judgment for $2,000 as an alternative, was asked in the complaint, which also demanded the sum of $10 for each day the equipment is held after September 5, 1923. Demand for return of the equipment was made upon Badgley and Reed on that date, it was indicated.

PULPWOOD IMPORTED

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 18.—The Americans are still importing pulpwood from Canada at a much heavier rate than they did last year, and shipments across the line during July amounted to 151,794 cords. Total exports of woodpulp for the four months ending July were 537,205 cords, as compared with 294,640 for the same period last year.

CAMERA BARES MARKSMANSHIP

If you doubt the destructive powers of the old-time Indian bow and arrow, take a look at the accompanying photograph, showing, among other things, a white flint arrowhead buried in an Indian's backbone. This and other relics were found "somewhere in Southern California," by W. F. Fraser, Santa Ana hunter and trapper.

WOMAN'S SKULL BROKEN; SUES
FOR $30,000

Mrs. Irene Kelch, in a suit filed in superior court here, today demanded $30,000 damages for a fracture of the skull and various bruises and lacerations which she claimed to have received when an automobile in which she was riding with her husband, Otto Kelch, collided with a truck driven by Lee Eckart and belonging to the Orange County Rock company.

Mrs. Kelch asserts that Eckart was driving at excessive speed and in a negligent manner when he approached the intersection of Chapman avenue and Tustin street, Orange, where the accident was said to have taken place last June 11.

Her injuries, including the asserted skull fracture, rendered her unconscious, and disabled her for an extended period, she declared.

Attorneys James L. Allen and James L. Davis, of Santa Ana, filed the action on behalf of Mrs. Kelch.

Bonds Get Approval

Approved by bond attorneys of the $125,000 bond issue recently voted by Fullerton grammar school district and sold to the National City company of San Francisco, had been announced today in a message to County Clerk J. M. Backs.

The National City company announced that it would be ready to receive the bonds by October 1. Backs is now having the bonds printed, he stated.

TOBACCO PLANTS CLOSE

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 18.—There was a reduction of six in the number of tobacco manufacturing plants in Canada in 1921, as compared with the previous year, according to a report on the industry issued by the bureau of statistics. There were in all 119 tobacco manufacturing plants in the Dominion in 1921, of which sixty were in Quebec, thirty-eight in Ontario, thirteen in British Columbia, three in Manitoba and two in Prince Edward Island, and one each in Nova Scotia, Alberta and New Brunswick.

Of the total product of the factories, valued at $66,960,000, no less than a value of $61,023,000 came from Quebec.

When a certain "redskin" giving utterance to his favorite outdoor war whoop, sent an arrow hurtling into the body of his avowed foe, somewhere in Southern California several hundred years ago, he probably did not know that he was paying the way for Pace I mention, nor did he suspect that the all-seeing and perfectly recording eye of the camera would illustrate the unerring qualities of his marksmanship. Yet that is precisely what happened.

W. T. Fraser, 1329 East First street, this city, a grizzled trapper and hunter, found the evidence, E. H. Boden, local photographer, brings it to the fore as Exhibit A in this gruesome record.

Veiled By Secrecy

"In the old days," said Fraser, exhibiting a number of trophies to Register workers, "when a man went to his death, few knew the facts except those vitally concerned. There were no newspapers and no photographers. This Indian, for example, who was slain by an opponent with a bow and arrow, may never be known, as far as we are concerned, but to his women he was doubtless a formidable character. As such he needed to be eradicated. Therefore, a bit of dexterity was called into play, a demonstration of marksmanship was given, a slug of white flint went sailing through the air, and the deed was done.

"The arrowhead, lodged in the red gentleman's backbone, remained there for many, many days, but the fighting man no longer felt any pain. He was quite beyond that.

"Conceals Location
"But if anyone has any lingering doubt as to the power of the bow that sent that arrow into the Indian's backbone, he has only to view the bones I found, with other relics, in this section of Southern California. The arrowhead is so firmly embedded in the bone it is virtually impossible to pull it out."

Fraser has in his possession the lower joint of the Indian's backbone, a bone dirt knife, a bone net-needle, several teeth from black and grizzly bears, a perfect stone plumb bob, a piece of pure copper used as a necklace by some Indian princess long before the days of Columbus, and other relics discovered "somewhere in Southern California."

"I do not give the exact location," said Fraser, "because I hope to interest University of California scientists in an expedition to this treasure house. I will gladly lead such an expedition if the expenses are defrayed by those who are making the researches."

Dr. Claycomb has moved to 715 North Main St. Phone 614.

QUAIL SHOOTER GETS 10-DAY SENTENCE

Shooting quail out of season is a matter for serious reflection, in the opinion of Justice J. B. Cox.

So he sent Martin Vusich of Los Angeles, to the county jail for ten days, that being about the right time and place for such reflection, the court said in pronouncing sentence yesterday.

Deputy County Game Warden George Harris arrested Vusich last Saturday in Govina canyon. Vusich was said to have had four quail in his possession when taken into custody.

Vusich's case is the first in this county in which violation of the game laws was punished by a jail sentence. It was understood to mark a new era in the enforcement of game protection, locally, at least.

When arrested, Vusich gave his address as 1196 East Forty-Seventh street, Los Angeles.

Deputy Harris also arrested Lewis F. Wood, of Hynes, Sunday in the same canyon. Wood, it was said, had one quail. He was accompanied by his brother and father.

The spot where Harris came upon the hunters was across the line in Riverside county. Prosecution of the case will take place, accordingly, in that county, it was announced.

The big tops are up!

East Fifth street kiddies have lost their playgrounds, and plans for Orange county's seventh annual fair are rapidly nearing completion.

Yesterday canvassmen from Los Angeles swooped down upon Santa Ana, giving residents a vivid reminder of the circus which visited Santa Ana last week. Today the results of their labors were plainly visible to all.

In a brief space of time canvas covering 110,000 square feet was put in place and today carpenters, sign painters, electricians, plumbers and decorators actively were engaged in putting the final touches to their work.

Meeting Called Today

Late this afternoon chairman of the various fair committees were to gather in the women's tent for a meeting with Manager R. D. Flaherty, at which time final plans for the placing of the various exhibits will be made.

Flaherty declared today that, when the hour for opening the fair arrives, everything will be in place, and there will be no last-minute rush to mar the perfection of the opening ceremonies.

All exhibits except those of perishable fruits must be in place Monday evening. Fruit has been excepted from this ruling, because of the desire of the fair management to keep these products in cold storage until the last minute.

On the fruit exhibits, however, must be completed long enough before the opening hour, to avoid confusion when the gates are opened to the public.

Livestock Pens Up

Work on the livestock pens, which started early last week under direction of Chairman E. G. Stinson and Assistant Farm Advisor W. M. Cory, has been completed and the stalls are now virtually ready to receive their respective occupants, comprising some of the finest purebred stock ever exhibited in Orange county.

Mrs. D. E. Paul and Mrs. Earl Morrow today was busily engaged in rounding up choice blossoms from Orange county's amateur gardeners for use in the floral displays, to occupy several hundred feet of space at the main entrance to the fair.

At the same time, executives of the Orange County Auto Trades association, were rushing final preparations for bringing to this city the very last word in automotive creations to be displayed in the motor industries department. Dealers were a unit in declaring that this year's automobile show will eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted here.

Others Prepare Displays
In addition to these hasty, but complete preparations, extensive plans are being made by Mrs. W. E. McConnell for the presentation of the display of needlework that will include more pieces than have ever been presented at an Orange county fair; artists from Laguna Beach have already selected the work to be hung in their exhibits, and were adding the last-minute touches to their section of the tent preparatory to hanging the valuable paintings; women of the Julia Lathrop Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. N. Beisel, president, are preparing their "parking" space—for babies, where mother can leave the little the Bible into the language of the 'jassball grounds failed to survive, as it failed to meet the popular need. On the latter hinges its success.

Mrs. F. M. Gist, teacher of the Woman's Bible class of the First Christian church—"So-called modern translations of the Bible, while undoubtedly a help in the study of the book, are not to be compared with the King James version in sheer beauty of phrasing. I fear that modern translators would be apt to be biased by personal opinions and the fact that the modern world is evading the question of future punishment.

The Rev. William Everett Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church—"Just how popular a translation into present-day English would prove, remains to be seen. We must remember that when the King James version was introduced it was in the current language of that day, and was far from enthusiastically received at the time. I frequently use a translation in Bible classes, to aid in clarifying the thought, but never in the pulpit, where the King James version seems to belong.

Called 'Impertinence'—Mrs. Robert Northcross, head of the English department at Santa Ana high school—"The idea has no appeal whatever to me. I have never ceased to rejoice that those scholars responsible for the accepted King James version lived in an age when pure and beautiful English was written and spoken. I quite agree with my husband who, when the matter came up for discussion at home, gave his verdict clearly and concisely by saying 'I consider it a great piece of impertinence!'

Fred Rafferty, student and collector of rare manuscripts and books—"Such a translation could be a remarkable addition to the world's literature. Personally I feel a marked degree of interest in the result of Dr. Goodspeed's efforts. As to its value, however, I am in doubt as it will represent the work, study and opinions of but one man. This would argue against its success unless, by some divine miracle, the writer truly were inspired.

WHEAT EXPORTS LISTED
OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 18.—A cablegram from the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome summarizing the world's wheat conditions places Canada in the foremost position as a source of supply for the world's wheat markets. The prospective shipments from principal wheat exporting countries are placed as follows: Canada, 290,000,000 bushels; United States, 180,000,000; Argentina, 120,000,000; Australia, 40,000,000; India, 30,000,000; Russia, 20,000,000; Balkans, 10,000,000.

MINISTRY LURE TO MORE MEN THAN USUAL

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 18.—The largest class of students for the ministry since the period immediately following the Civil war will be enrolled at Xenia United Presbyterian theological seminary, St. Louis, at the opening term, according to Dr. Melvin Grove Kyle, the president of the seminary. This indicates, he added, that a larger number of young men than formerly are now entering the ministry. Xenia is the oldest Protestant seminary in the country.

"The incoming classes of 1923," Dr. Kyle stated, in speaking of the future outlook for the seminary, "added to the students now in the classes, will strain the facilities and equipment of the present organization and buildings. In the campaign for additional funds, which is being presented to United Presbyterians, we seek to place the seminary in position to grasp the greater career offered it for the training of the increasing number of young men offering themselves for the ministry.

"On the removal of the seminary from Xenia, O., to St. Louis, where there seemed to be a great field for its service, the classes immediately doubled in number. The time-honored custom of the seminary to receive students of all evangelical denominations without any dormitory or tuition charges aroused an immediate response from the churches. St. Louis took the seminary to her heart and has since shown an increasing affection."

On account of the attendance at seminaries being much smaller than at the average college, the expense of educating ministers per student is very much larger, Dr. Kyle stated. At Xenia it is about $700 per year for each student, he said, which is much smaller than at some seminaries. "As nothing is charged the student except actual cost of table board," he explained, "it naturally follows, that the seminary must obtain the money from some other source for their support and training. A larger portion of this money comes and must come from the United Presbyterian church."

United Presbyterians in the seven synods in control of the seminary are asked to raise $500,000. The goal for St. Louis is set at $200,000.

Tattoo Tot's Name On Leg To Prevent Theft, Urges Nurse

ities can check one against the other.

But only footprints," says John R. Howard Jr., superintendent of the hospital, "taken from two to three weeks after birth form permanent means of identification."

Since most patients are discharged by that time, the hospital, which concerns itself with keeping the babies straight while they are in its charge, rarely makes these permanent prints.

Another method employed is that of tagging the babies with little name tapes. But this, too, is merely a temporary means.

A permanent method of identification is suggested by Miss Nannette West, supervisor of the nurses in the pediatric service.

"Tattoo their names," she says. "I've known of several cases where this was done. In one instance the name was tattooed on the back of a leg. It was done very minutely. As the baby grew, the name grew with it."

Use Back of Heel—"The back of a heel probably would be a better place, less conspicuous. The method, I think, is painless, when one is young."

"As a matter of fact, mistaken identity on the part of a mother is very unusual. In our wards, nine out of every ten mothers pick out their babies from the cradle on which we wheel them into the mothers' ward, perhaps ten at a time, almost instinctively."

"Fathers, of course, are different. One could pass off almost any baby on them, and they would say it was 'cute' and think it was theirs."

One of her cutest charges now is Mike, a little foundling, who will probably be boarded out as soon as he grows up a little.

But somewhere, perhaps, is a mother, who may want to claim him later.

And somewhere else is the missing Lillian McKenzie baby, who may remain unknown forever, for the lack of identification.

SAY MARS HOT AT NOON. COOL AT NIGHT

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 18.—How hot or cold is it on the moon, Mars, Saturn, Jupiter and the other great planets?

Dr. W. W. Coblentz of the bureau of standards in Detroit, says he is able to answer these questions by means of a new method, which permits him to measure the heat of the stars. He has infrared or heat rays of the planets absorbed by a water cell and measures the radiation transmitted by means of a vacuum thermometer.

In the case of Jupiter, the heat radiations were found to be zero, showing that no internal planetary heat, if such exists, penetrates the outer space and that none of the sun's rays, even if they reach the surface or lower atmosphere of the planet and are effective in warming it, are able to return to outer space through the dense atmosphere. All radiation from the planet Jupiter is that of reflected sunlight.

In the case of Saturn, which also has a dense atmosphere, it was found, however, that 15 per cent of the total radiation is heat radiations from the surface of the planet or its atmosphere. Since spectroscopic observations show that the atmospheres of Jupiter and Saturn are similar in composition, either the atmosphere of Saturn and so less effective in trapping the sun's rays, or else Saturn possesses considerable internal heat, which is being radiated to outer space.

Trapped By Venus—So effective is the atmosphere of Venus in trapping radiations from its surface that only 5 per cent of the total radiation from the planet is radiation of heat rays from the surface or lower atmosphere, in spite of the fact that Venus is so much nearer to the earth to the sun that twice the amount of solar radiation reaches its outer atmosphere and should be available for heating its atmosphere and surface.

In the case of the moon 80 per cent of the radiations were found to be heat radiations. This remarkably high percentage arises from the fact that there is very little, if any, atmosphere so that practically all of the solar radiation reaches the surface, which becomes highly heated and re-radiates its acquired energy directly into space in the form of heat rays. The remaining 20 per cent is directly reflected sunlight.

Mars Hot—For Mars 30 per cent of the radiations were found to be infrared or heat rays, indicating that the atmosphere is rare, and that the surface is highly heated by the sun's rays. The measurements also showed that the southern hemisphere, at the time of the observations, was emitting more heat rays than the northern hemisphere. As the winter season with its increased cloudiness was approaching in the northern Martian hemisphere, lower heat radiations were to be expected both because the surface was becoming cooler and because there were more clouds and mists present to trap the outgoing radiations.

The radiations measurements obtained for Mars by Dr. Coblentz support the high values obtained by Professor Percival Lowell for the mean surface temperature of Mars, 48 degrees F. to 82 degrees F. The daily range of temperature on Mars is very high, possibly from below freezing at night to 70 degrees F. at midday, according to reliable estimates.

United Presbyterians in the seven synods in control of the seminary are asked to raise $500,000. The goal for St. Louis is set at $200,000.

and had signed the name of James Wirt. The possibility that some person other than Wirt had signed the poison slip, was investigated by the police when it was learned that the address given by Wirt was alleged to be a rendezvous for underworld characters.

Almost a year ago, under almost identical circumstances, Frank Wirt, also of Anaheim and brother of James Wirt, ended his own life in Los Angeles by taking the same kind of poison. Despondency over ill health was given as the cause of the former's death.

The Wirt brothers were the sons of Mrs. A. Tares of East Cypress street, Anaheim.

The body was removed to the Huddle funeral home, Anaheim, where funeral arrangements were being made today.

CANADIAN DEBT LOWER
OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 18.—The net debt of Canada, according to the statement issued by the department of finance, fell by a little less than $6,000,000 during the month of July, although the gross debt rose by something less than $3,000,000. The net debt of Canada at the end of July stood at $2,403,335,523, as compared with $2,400,001,572 at the end of June. The gross debt at the end of July was $2,928,921,777 as compared with $2,925,568,384 at the end of June. The increase in the gross debt is due to a rise in the circulation of dominion notes. The difference between the two statements is explained by an increase in the investment of dominion funds over and above those which are classed as inactive, such as the railways.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

C. S. Kelly Drug Store and every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if a full pint bottle of ALLENRHU, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished even in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

Allenrhru relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels. It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days. Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of ALLENRHU, who for many years suffered the tortments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless ALLENRHU decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance.

Pay For Your "Radiantfire" November 1st —Have It Delivered Now!

As long as our complete stock is here and ready for delivery the "Radiantfires" might just as well be distributed among the homes going to use them this winter. To speed it up we will deliver the "Radiantfire" of your choice to your home and wait until November 1st for payment.

Real Fireplace Comfort With Radiant Heat

Every charm and practical benefit your fireplace has ever held for you, will be retained in full measure after you have substituted Radiantfire for your present equipment.

But all the old faults will be missing.

For Radiantfire burns gas—our natural gas—and thereby eliminates the long list of obstacles which make open fires of wood or coal so unwelcome to the conscientious housewife.

By its saving of fuel and trouble, and because its Radiant Rays are nine times more efficient than ordinary methods of heat projection, your Radiantfire installation will pay for itself before Spring, leaving you "on velvet" for a lifetime of true fireplace enjoyment.

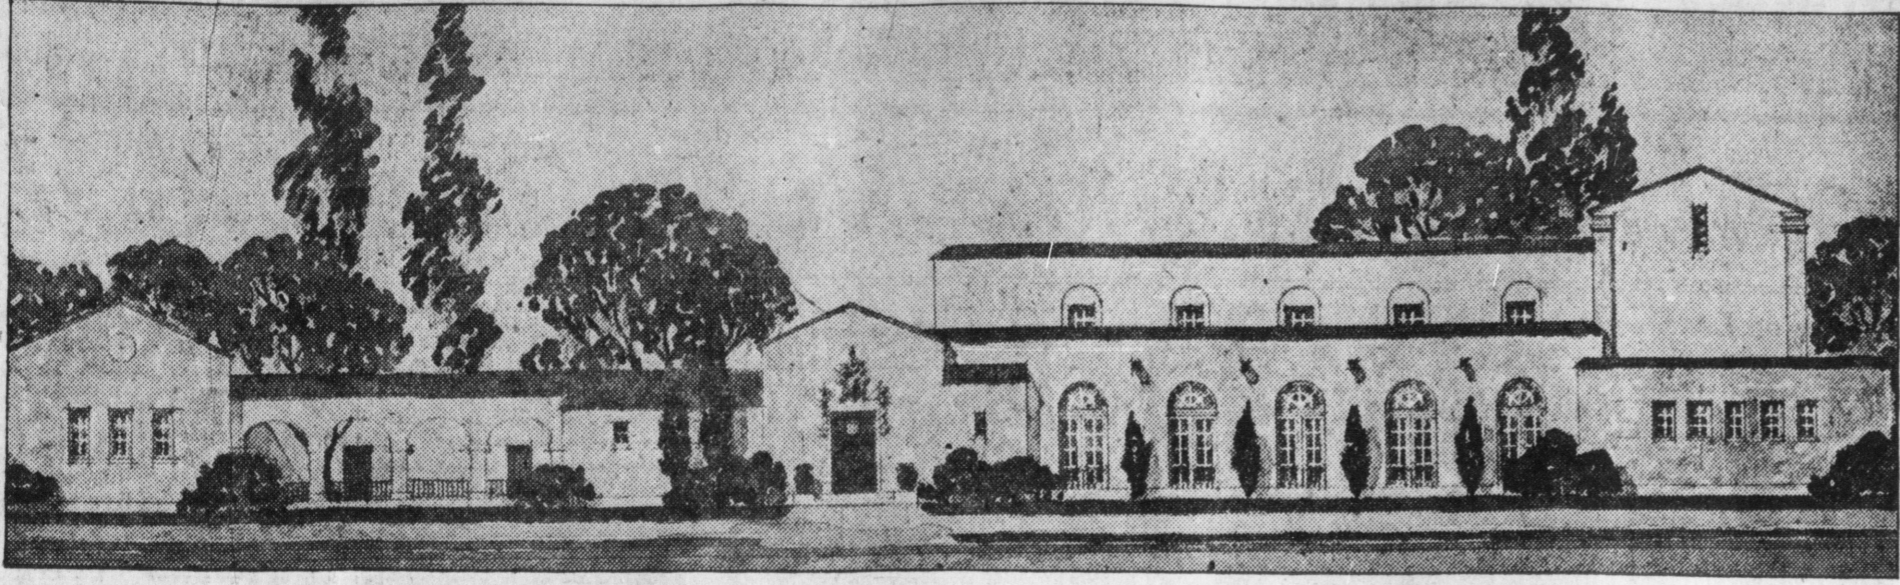

Come in and see the wide variety of genuine Humphrey Radiantfire models and have one delivered to your home now—pay for it November 1st.

New Buildings and New Homes Being Built or Planned for Santa Ana

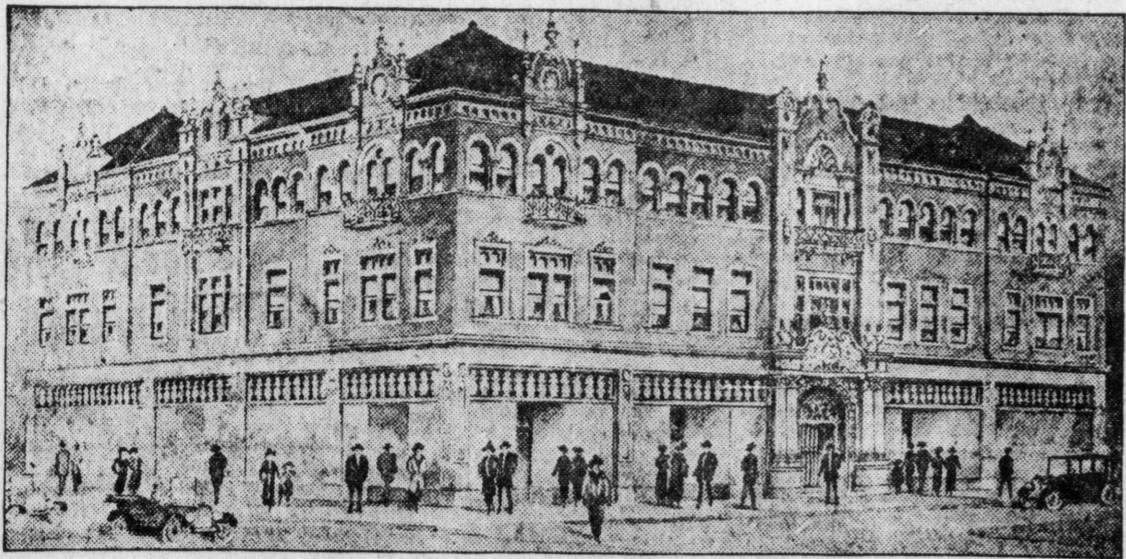

The Ebell Society of the Santa Ana Valley has plans drawn for a beautiful club house. It is expected that construction will start within a few weeks.

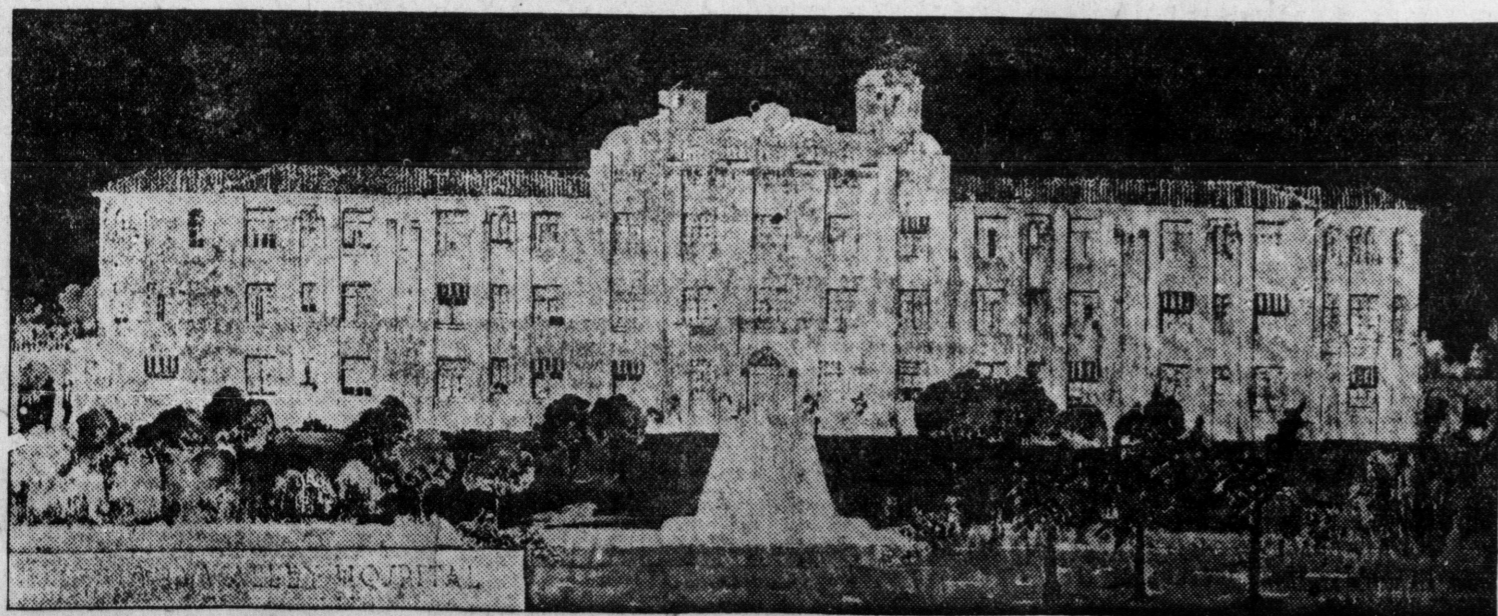

Arthur H. Lyon, citrus grower, has plans drawn for a fine new residence to be erected on his orange grove property on East Fourth street.

The Y. M. C. A. building, for which $232,000 was raised in a week's campaign, is now well along toward completion, at Sycamore and Church streets.

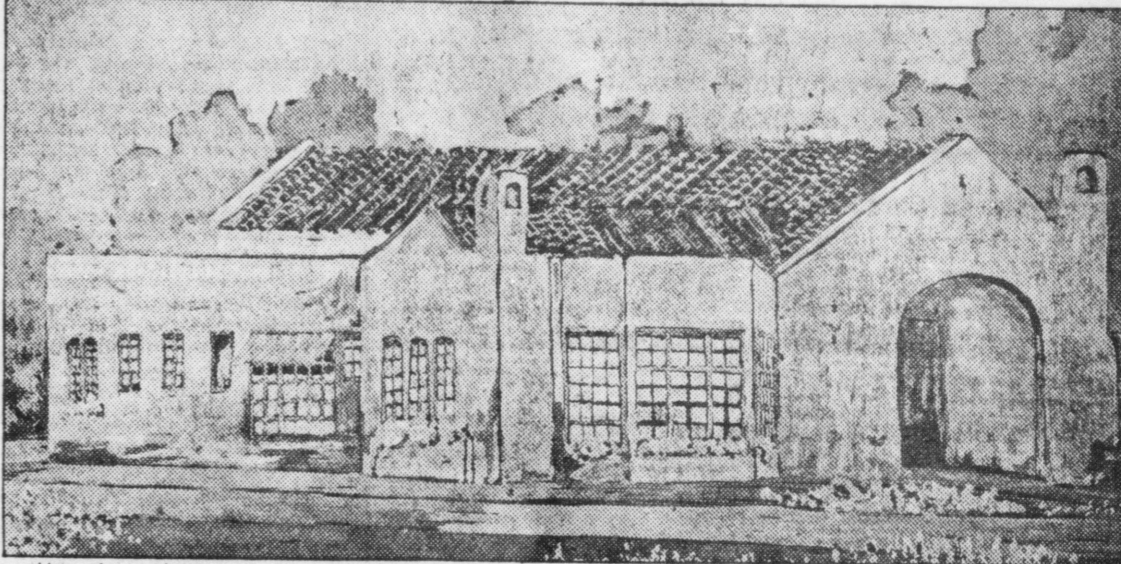

Santa Ana Masons are discussing plans for re-building along this line.

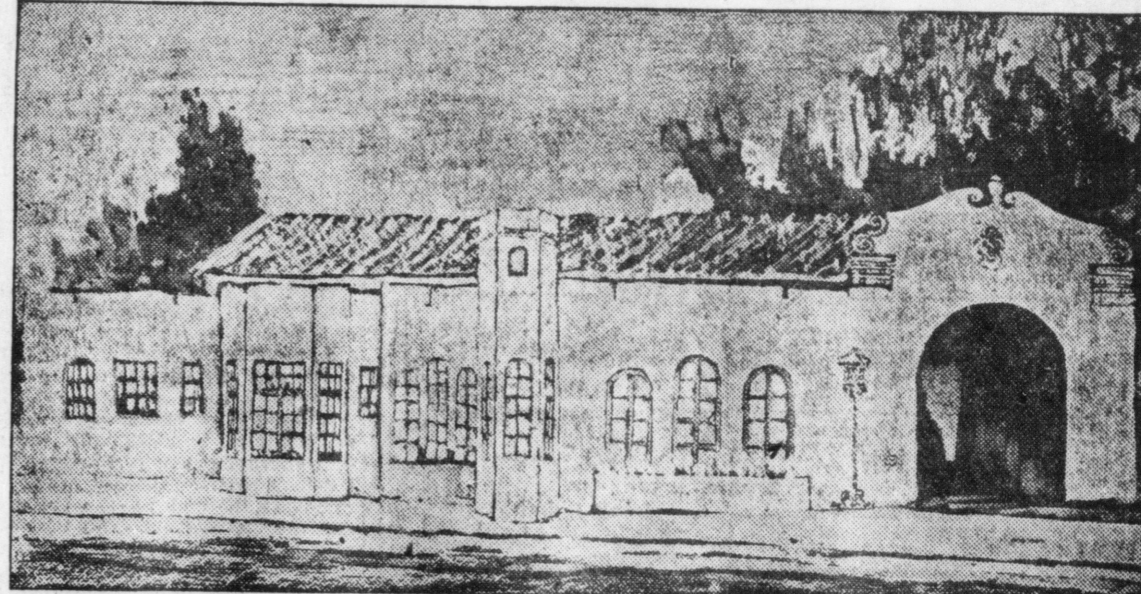

It is expected that within a short time arrangements will be completed for the building of a large and fully equipped hospital by the Santa Ana Community Hospital association.

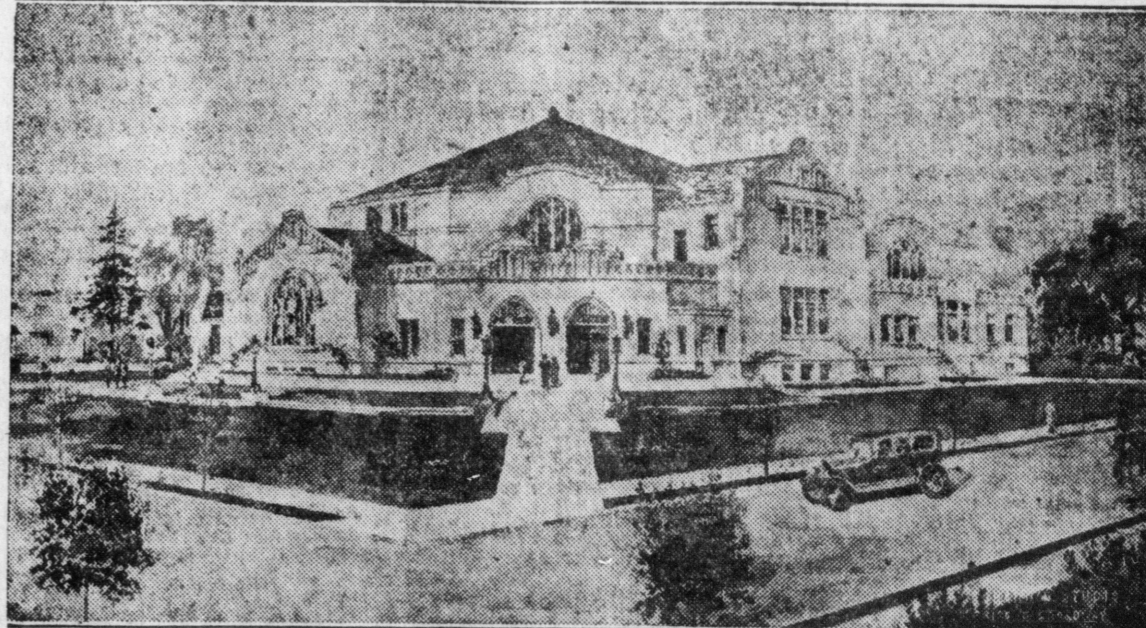

The First National Bank of Santa Ana is now building a fine six-story bank building, at Fourth and Main streets. The bank will occupy the entire first floor.

This is a picture of the second of Santa Ana's new fire halls soon to be built.

The Christian Science church at Main and Tenth streets is to be ready for services soon.

The County of Orange is building a fine new hall of records on its courthouse grounds.

On this page are pictures of a number of buildings now under construction in Santa Ana or contemplated.

Building records show that Santa Ana today is growing at a pace that is fifty per cent faster than it was a year ago.

The construction under way in Santa Ana today includes every class, all the way from small dwellings up to the great six-story Class A office building that is being erected at Fourth and Main by the First National bank.

New schoolhouses, new business blocks, fine new residences, a big market building, a Y. M. C. A., a hall of records, a big church, a gas company building, these are being built.

A hospital, two new fire houses, fine residences—these are but a few of the buildings for which architects have drawn plans.

FIRPO GOT BREAKS AS WELL AS CHAMP

Expert Says Argentine Was Given Count of Twelve
On One Knockdown

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Much is being made over the number and variety of fouls that the admirers of Luis Angel Firpo allege Jack Dempsey committed against him when the champion was waging his terrific battle Friday night to retain his crown.

Firpo's handlers charge that their man failed to win the championship because he adhered to the rules and the champion did not. And Horacio Lavelle, the trainer of the South American, went so far as to state that the referee was supporting Dempsey with more than his heart.

Dempsey did commit a few minor infractions of the rules, it is true, but they were not serious enough to make him liable for disqualification and when he did transgress the rules it was done at a time when it was obvious that the champion was groggy and did not know exactly what he was doing.

Firpo might have suffered a little less when Dempsey hit him once before he was entirely erect after a knockdown, once after the champion punched him after the bell and again when Jack was helped back into the ring after he had been knocked through the ropes into the press box. The South American got the best break of the evening when he was given a count of more than twelve early in the first round. He was really knocked out soon after the fight opened and was on the floor when the referee and the counting time keeper reached the count of ten.

E. L. Prothero Shoots
Big Three-Point Buck
E. L. Prothero, 1309 Grand avenue, today was added to the list of local sportsmen who were lucky enough to bag the elusive buck near the opening of the season.

With his brother, Joe, Prothero hunted in Live Oak canyon opening morning. Spraying a three-point deer through a pair of field glasses, the local men trailed the buck until they were within shooting distance. E. L. Prothero shot the deer through the heart.

ANAHEIM, Sept. 18.—The soft sand strata, in which the bit was expected to reach the 1000-foot level over the week-end, ended unexpectedly in the Standard Oil Company's test hole on the William Wagner ranch two miles southeast of this city, and turned into another strata of boulders and conglomerate. Harder drilling, therefore, slowed up the progress and the bit was not more than 900 feet below the surface at noon Monday.

Although it is reported that at least one other large company is to start drilling operations in the Anaheim field during the week, a survey of the 4500 acres under lease failed to reveal any activities today beside that of the Standard. Oil experts declare, however, that drilling will be started by other companies soon. They base their belief on the fact that drilling is actually slackening up in Southern California producing fields, due to approaching "dried-up" stages at Long Beach and Santa Fe Springs.

Champion Leaves for West to Visit Folks

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Jack Dempsey, world heavyweight champion, left today for the west, where he will spend a vacation with the members of his family.

JULY 1 JINX DAY FOR EDDIE COLLINS

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Eddie Collins, premier second sacker of the Chicago White Sox, regards July 1 as the jinx day of his baseball career. Despite the fact that the position of second base places a player in constant danger of injury, only three during his career has Collins been forced out of play. And strangely enough each accident has happened on July 1.

The most serious injury of his career happened this year, when in fielding a ground ball batted by Ken Williams in a game at St. Louis, Collins wrenched his knee so badly that he was out practically a month. After a ten-day rest he played two games, only to find that the knee had not sufficiently recovered playing strength. After two weeks more of idleness he resumed play, but the injury has handicapped his work ever since.

Up until July Collins was having one of the greatest years of his career, seemed faster than ever and was hitting well above the .350 mark. Then came the injury at St. Louis which has slowed him up and still has him worried since the leg hasn't responded to treatment as he hoped it would.

"I am 36 years old and hoped to go at top speed for four years more," remarked Collins recently. "This knee injury, however, has me worried. It may alter my plans. However, I am hoping that a winter of rest will bring me around again."

NEW BOXING ARENA WILL OPEN TONIGHT

"Wildcat Willie" O'Brien Comes Back Home to Box
Main Event Mill

TONIGHT'S CARD.
Main Event—"Wildcat Willie" O'Brien vs. Scotty McGlick, 128 pounds.
Semi-Windup—Jack Sparr vs. Young Terry, 135 pounds.
Preliminaries—Hank Gatten vs. Ray Rivers, 150 pounds.
Frankie Smith vs. Kid Louie, 118 pounds.
Mike Gallotto vs. Babe Orton, 130 pounds.
Jackie Jones vs. Sailor Ray Kelsey, 126 pounds.
Eddie Doolis vs. Jack Sanders, 124 pounds.

"Wildcat Willie" O'Brien, dapper little Hollywood glove slinger, comes back home tonight. Facing Scotty McGlick, in the main event at the opening of the new Orange County Athletic club, located at the intersection of North Main street and Chapman avenue, "Wildcat Willie" now a consistent high-up performer on Vernon and Hollywood cards, comes back to the city where he first gained distinction in the ring.

Three years ago when four-round boxing was allowed in Santa Ana, O'Brien got his start. One night at the Grand Opera house he stopped two preliminary boys on the same night.

McGlick, a Pasadena boy, who easily outpointed Packy McMullen at Huntington Beach several weeks ago, has a reputation of his own. He should give O'Brien plenty of reason to worry.

The remainder of the opening bill seems well-balanced. Jack Sparr and Young Terry mingle in semi-windup. Sparr twice has outpointed the Anaheim welterweight but both scraps were exceedingly close.

Henry Gatten and Ray Rivers go on in the feature preliminary. There will be four other bouts.

BUENA PARK, Sept. 18.—The Christian Endeavor society motored to Long Beach near Pishy park Saturday night, and held their monthly business meeting on the sand. After the business meeting they had games and a steak roast, returning home at a late hour.

Mr. Given made a business trip to Los Angeles yesterday. Chester Harrel and Vernon Carnes visited friends in Buena Park Sunday.

In the Big Leagues

George Kelly hit three homers in three straight trips to the plate and helped the Giants win from the Cubs, 13 to 6.

Rube Marquard stopped the Pirates while the Braves were pounding two pitchers and Boston won, 6 to 1.
Four runs scored on a rally in the fifth inning gave the Cardinals a 6 to 5 win from the Phillies.
Walter Johnson pitched the Senators to a double victory over the Browns at 5 to 4 and 12 to 2.
Behind the good pitching of Naylor and Helmach, the Athletics beat the Tigers in a double header at 2 to 0 and 4 to 3.
After dropping the first game, 6 to 1, the Red Sox copped the second from the White Sox, 6 to 5.

BEACH POLICEMAN BACK FROM VISIT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 18.—William H. Stanton, of the local police force here, returned from a several days' visit with friends in Los Angeles.

Fred Crawford, who has been visiting in this city for the past few weeks, returned to his home in Arizona last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wells and family from Lomita visited friends here over the week-end.

Miss Ida Hutchesson and Miss Edith D. Gatten of Nashville, Tenn., are spending some time visiting Miss Hutchesson's brother, E. G. Hutchesson, of this city, who is staying at the Huntington Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Steele of Los Angeles were visitors in Huntington Beach recently.

Miss M. Clippenger returned recently from an extended visit to her old home in Custer and Oklahoma City.

He's Working With 1923 Poly Football Men As Season Near

ED COVINGTON, Santa Ana high school football coach, faces a tough job in converting the tiny squad reporting to him into a winning machine.

J. C. GRID OUTLOOK BRIGHT THIS YEAR

Twenty Candidates Report
To Coaches Hummel and Crites; Plan Games
With more than a score of candidates already on the field and the prospects bright that enough men to make at least three squads soon would report for practice, athletic followers of the Santa Ana junior college today were confident of a brilliant football season.

The candidates are reporting to Coaches Ed Hummel and Crites. Several hundred dollars have been spent by the student body of the institution in acquiring new equipment for the team and more funds are available.

Most of the season's conflicts will be waged on the local field. Games have been scheduled with San Diego State college, Fullerton and Riverside junior colleges, Whittier college, Pomona and Occidental freshmen and the Sherman Indians. They local crew also may play the U. S. C. first-year aggregation.

Candidates for the team this fall include several members of last year's Santa Ana high school squad and also graduates from Orange, Huntington Beach, Garden Grove, Tustin, Anaheim and men from several Southern California colleges.

In the season's first scrimmage last night, "Greedy" was stationed at fullback. He may stay there unless Dan Cook falls down at quarter or one of the halfbacks takes a slump. Williams is good enough to fill in wherever they put him.

Covington lined up his varsity as follows yesterday for the fifteen minutes of action: Captain Linsenbarr, center; Townsend and Dungan, guards; Wood and Sheets, tackles; Decker and Natland, ends; Cook, quarter; Luck and Le Bard, halves; Williams, full.

That lay-out sounds and look pretty good. But what if a couple of them get injured. Who then is going in? A football team, to be great, must have reserve material.

SMALL SQUAD REPORTS TO COVINGTON

Only 35 Candidates After Team Berths; Williams
Looms As Big Ace

BY EDDIE WEST
Like those gentlemen who once greeted with surprise the cold, gray dawn after a "night out," Santa Ana high school football followers today realized that everything is not so good down at the place where the time-honored Poly owl blinks and winks knowingly.

Without any of the "Gloomy Gus" predictions and without a desire to toss any ice-water on the smoldering fires of hope, head Coach Ed Covington, facing the cold-hard facts admitted that the local grid-iron outlook is none too bright.

It's a tough situation for the new football club who would like nothing better in the world than to give Santa Ana a winner in his first season at the helm here.

Squad Works Hard
Covington isn't downcast, discouraged or crestfallen. The fighting "gents" don't get that way and the railbirds who have watched him play, as well as teach the game, know that Covington is a fighting chap. Neither are his disciples ready to give up the ghost. They are working hard every night and from that small little bunch of faithful Covington may spring a whole host of surprises before the curtain falls on the football stage this season.

What material there is on the ground seems fairly good. But what a lack of candidates!

By actual count, thirty-four men were in first-team suits last night. A widely scout to be sure, but one from which Covington will be lucky to get any reserve material.

Candidates Are Green
Probably half the men in suits never played a lick of football. Most of them are green as cooking apples, willing to learn, but too green to absorb enough in a few brief weeks to cope with some of the burly opponents they will face before the year is over.

Covington has about fifteen men who may upset this gloomy outlook. Most of this number has had a smattering of experience.

Petition to Probate $15,000 Will Filed

A petition for probate of the will left by the late August Best, of Santa Ana, who died August 27, leaving an estate valued at $15,000, had been filed today in the superior court here by his son, Percy L. Best.

The estate consists of property at 1150 Hickey street. Under the terms of the will it is left to six children, Charles, Percy, Louis and Eddie Best, all of Santa Ana, Ida Coulthard, of Chino, and Lillian Deardorff, of Buena Park.

TRADE GAIN REPORTED
Exports of pulp and paper in July amounted in value to $12,066,879, compared with $9,728,252 in July, 1922, according to a statement issued by the Canadian Pulp and Paper association. Exports to the United States in July totaled $10,493,904; United Kingdom, $884,127; and other countries, $688,788.

The first four months of the current fiscal year there has been a big increase in the value of pulp and paper exports compared with the corresponding months of 1922, this year's total being $45,093,451, against $35,276,317 last year.

Alleged Booze Owner Gets 500-Day 'Jolt'

J. R. ("Shorty") Coates had today begun serving a sentence of 500 days in the county jail, following his appearance in Justice J. B. Cox's court, where he pleaded guilty late yesterday to a charge of having liquor in his possession.

The court ordered him to pay a fine of $500 or serve 500 days. Coates went to jail. Attorney W. F. Menton represented him in court.

The charge against Coates followed a raid September 8 by county officers upon his place west of Wintersburg, where the officers claimed to have dispersed a gathering of thirty men and women.

EVENING SALUTATION

"If you cannot on the ocean
Sail among the swiftest fleet,
Racing on the highest billows,
Laughing at the storms you meet;
You can go among the sailors Anchored yet within the bay,
You can lead a hand to help them
As they launch their boats away."

MOTORISTS' LEGAL STANDING

The judges of the traffic court and homicide court in New York city have recently explained at length just how serious is the motorists' responsibility for the safety of pedestrians. According to those judges, pedestrians are not required to cross streets at regular crossings. However, if they choose "jay-walking" the law requires them to use greater care than must pedestrians using cross walks.

Furthermore, they say, there is no inherent right to run a motor vehicle on the public streets. That is a privilege, subject to regulation and control. The burden of avoiding accidents therefore devolves upon the motorist first and the pedestrian second. From this point of view, sounding a warning horn is not sufficient. If a pedestrian appears to be in a dangerous position the motorist should stop his car.

One of the judges asserts that knowledge of these principles, or legal facts, ought to make reckless and speeding motorists more respectful of public rights and more reasonable in their attitude toward other drivers and pedestrians.

All of this may be quite true, but it should not be seized upon by the pedestrian to save him from all future trouble in looking out for his own safety. Although he has a technical right to "jay-walk," any self-respecting pedestrian with good sense must appreciate what confusion would result from the general practice of that right. His own safety, the motorist's safety and the orderly regulation of traffic all depend upon every member of the community doing his part toward mutual well-being. Courtesy as well as personal safety demand co-operation in this as in other matters.

The Balkans are beginning to balk again.

SEEING THROUGH SMOKE

Now comes a citizen of a notoriously smoky city, arguing that the smokiness thereof is misrepresented and exaggerated by casual observers. Seen from the outskirts of the town, he admits, the people appear to be living under an overwhelming pall of smoke. From that vantage point, it is incredible that human beings should exist and thrive while breathing that sooty air. But, argues this patriotic citizen, the observers have a wrong perspective.

Instead of looking at the smoke edgewise, they should get under it and look up through it. Seen from that angle, it is not intolerable, because the pall is only a few hundred feet thick, whereas when viewed horizontally, as a stratum miles in diameter, it is impenetrable. Looking upward, anyone can begin to understand how local residents are able to see and move around and breathe and live from one year to another.

His argument is reasonable. Smoke, like most dark things, is usually exaggerated. And it is always edifying to look up where the light comes from. Still, it is unfortunate that good brains should be used in such a demonstration, when they might better be applied to making citizens understand that actual harm done to health and property by whatever quality of smoke there is, and the practicability and profit of getting rid of it.

CLUBS FOR LONGER LIFE

The Illinois department of health is organizing "Live a Little Longer" clubs. The only initiation requirement will be a complete physical examination on the applicant's birthday anniversary. Good standing in the clubs will be based on a member's faithfulness in carrying out the advice of the physician making the annual examination. Better health is the benefit to be derived.

Says the state director of public health, "A physical examination annually is not a measure designed merely to prevent disease, but it is a definite means for stimulating positive, vigorous health." Many persons free from active disease are nevertheless not up to the mark of their fullest efficiency because they have defective vision, poor hearing, decayed teeth, bad posture, because they exercise too strenuously or not enough, because their diet is unbalanced, or because other apparently slight physical defects are allowed to exist.

Longer life alone is not wholly attractive, but if it is accompanied by improved mental and bodily health it should mean greater usefulness and greater enjoyment.

It's much easier to sympathize with a country afflicted by a natural calamity than with one afflicted by a calamity of man's making.

A CHANCE FOR WEALTH

Luther Burbank has for 60 years been producing better foods and flowers for the benefit of the human race. He is 74 years old and he is concerned as to what is to become of his work when he can no longer do it.

Isn't it about time some millionaire wanting his name to go down on the annals of time as a benefactor of education should look into the proposition of endowing this wizard's workshop and presenting it to some university as a place where students may continue this work of useful research? Surely turning poor fruits and flowers into good ones is better than turning all things into gold.

CANADIAN CO-OPERATION

There is to be an international conference between Canada and the United States on the question of running. The Canadian government, and the British government through which it still speaks, have come at last to see the justice of the Washington viewpoint and express their willingness to do all they can to help this country in its hard task of enforcing the prohibition law. If they can check the illicit operations of their own citizens, it will help a great deal.

At the same time the Canadian department of agriculture is starting to co-operate with the United States department of agriculture to control the depredations of the European corn borer. This destructive pest has been operating only four or five years in the States, slowly moving westward, with the frontier now in Ohio. Canada has been fighting it twice as long, and has much to contribute in the way of useful experience. On the other hand, a special method discovered in Canada, of fighting the borer by means of a parasitic gnat, cannot be worked out in that country so well as in this, because the cold winters may kill the parasite. It is a particularly good case for co-operation in exterminating the common enemy instead of each country merely setting up barriers against the other, according to the usual practice.

Little by little, nations learn to work together in matters involving their mutual welfare, and in this enlightened effort the two big North American nations are usually found taking a leading part.

Co-operative Marketing

Stockton Independent.

It is good news to farmer organizations generally that the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers Association and the government have reached an understanding. According to an announcement from Washington yesterday, the new association, organized under the Capper law, has not been under investigation, but certain practices of the old association, now in process of liquidation, were the subject of inquiry. A satisfactory compromise was reached on all but two points, and the legal department has apparently cut the Gordian knot by turning the matter over to the Department of Agriculture. It may be assumed that the latter branch of the government will be more interested in a practical working program than in the purely legal aspect of co-operative marketing.

The conflict goes deeper than a mere disagreement between the attorney general and the secretary of agriculture. These two officials are merely the representatives of two conflicting industrial ages. The one (the attorney general) is sworn to enforce the legal concepts that developed in an age of individualism. The other (the secretary of agriculture) must recognize that co-operative marketing is an economic present-day fact and that it must be permitted to function.

The attorney general had no objection to co-operative associations in theory, but held that the means these associations take to control and discipline their members are illegal. These associations take title to the pooled produce and assess penalties against growers who break their contracts.

The secretary of agriculture recognizes that as a practical matter these organizations must have a means of discipline. If not, there unfortunately would be some who would treat their contracts as scraps of paper. Secretary Wallace, therefore, has announced that he is disposed to approve the means of control worked out by the raisin and other farmer associations to hold their membership to their engagements.

The upshot of the whole affair seems to have been that Daugherty turned the whole problem of working out a practical modus operandi of co-operative marketing to Secretary Wallace with the admonition to make it as legal as possible, but not to be fussy. The secretary will tell farmer co-operative organizations what they can and cannot do, much as the Trade Commission has done for industrial organizations.

The Outbreak in Spain

San Francisco Chronicle.

The outbreak in Spain began in Barcelona, the most populous of the Spanish provinces and the headquarters of the communist Reds. The city and province is at all times, apparently, on the verge of revolution. This uprising, however, is a strictly military movement, headed by Primo Rivera, Captain-General of the province, and is not directed against the King nor the constituted government, but against the Reds and the Cabinet, alleged to be both incompetent and corrupt. At the present writing Captain-General Rivera claims the support of the commanders in the other provinces and especially of the Captain-General at Madrid.

The immediate cause of the revolt seems to be the alleged unjust treatment by the Cabinet of the military commanders in Morocco while refusing to proceed against dishonest contractors, who, it is claimed, were really responsible for the disasters in Morocco by neglecting to furnish the war material whose lack was the cause of the reverses.

The Morocco adventure is at the bottom of a great part of the internal troubles of Spain. Spain, of course, has no shadow of right in Morocco, other than the right of conquest, and she does not seem able to conquer. The self-determination is functioning the other way. The result so far has been heavy sacrifice of Spanish lives, the ordinary war corruption and very heavy taxation.

The constitution of Spain is fairly liberal and King Alfonso seems to be personally popular. Captain-General Rivera declares the purpose of his movement to be honesty in government, the maintenance of order and justice, the reduction of taxes and the suppression of communist disturbances, while providing for great improvement of the condition of manual workers. This brief statement should enable readers to intelligently follow the dispatches from day to day.

Editorial Shorts

Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, announces his approval of the fullest co-operation in agricultural associations, designed to be of benefit to the farmer in the marketing of his crops. Just what a navy man has to do with it is a little hard to see, but we welcome Theodore to the ranks. And we rejoice to see that he is also opposed to governmental price fixing and unsound loans as official policies.—Redlands Facts.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

VARICOSE VEINS.

Those blue knotted looking veins you see in the legs are known as Varicose veins. It simply means that the veins are distended or dilated and are also elongated.

Perhaps you know that the veins bring the blood back to the heart from all parts of the body, and have valves in them so that the blood can't run back. So you see if you have a tight garter encircling your leg the back pressure on the blood dilates the blood vessels and causes varicose veins. If you exercise your muscles as in running or walking, the muscle pressing against the veins helps to push the blood along and really prevents the condition arising.

People who stand at their work all day, such as bench men, motor men and others are often affected with this trouble. But perhaps the most frequent cause is because your pump—your heart—isn't strong enough to send the blood all the way down to the feet and back again. That long climb back to the heart is just a little more than the pump can do.

All you can do about it is just two things. Try to make your pump a little stronger by developing your whole body, and nourishing it well, and secondly do not do anything to interfere with the return flow of the blood.

Youngsters should not be allowed to wear tight round garters. In fact round garters are a mistake for everybody. A closely fitting elastic stocking is the best treatment where the condition exists. Tight bandages, or puttees are a mistake in that they shut off the circulation and really aggravate the condition. There is just the possibility of rubbing or scraping them and causing further damage with very slow healing. Remember that while the body should be well nourished, excessive weight predisposes to the condition. (Metropolitan Newspaper Service.)

A Change of Program Every Week

Is Our Climate Changing?

Riverside Enterprise

A Riverside man who has lived here for 35 years calls at The Enterprise office to tell the writer that climatic conditions in Riverside and Southern California have changed greatly during his residence here.

"Thirty-five years ago," he declared, "we never had any rain in the summer months. There never was a cloud to be seen. Fogs were rare. Such weather as we had last week during the eclipse was unknown. The climate is changing in that the winters are getting colder, and the annual rainfall is increasing."

The Riverside man's remarks have been pretty generally echoed this week. There seems to be a general opinion that ocean currents are changing, that ocean fogs are in some manner different than in former years, and that mysterious, unexplainable forces are at work in the atmosphere and the sea.

To speak plainly, there is but one way to characterize such beliefs. They are BUNK.

Study the rainfall and temperature tables of the United States government for this section of the country, and you will find that in the last 40 years there has been no change. One season will be dry; another wet, one year will be cool; another hot. The cycle of the years continues, but there is no change. Conditions are as they always were.

There is no question, however, that the earth, like all finite things, is altering. But the space of a century, or for that matter of 20 centuries; is not sufficient to show it. "A thousand years are as one in the sight of the Lord." Mountains are being leveled, sea-coasts are rising and lowering, but we are unable to observe it, any more than we can see the growth of plant or animal life. Our lives are too short, when compared with the history of the universe, to note these great but slow changes in our world.

So don't be uneasy. When a man tells you that the climate of Southern California is getting warmer or colder, or that the rainfall is becoming greater or less, don't worry. He doesn't know what he is talking about. Barring some unforeseen happening, the climate of Southern California will be just what it now is 1000 years from today.

Worth While Verse

SHADOWS OF SHASTA

A land that man has newly trod,
A land that only God has known.
Through all the soundless cycles flown.
Yet perfect blossoms bless the sod,
And perfect birds illumine the trees
And perfect unheard harmonies
Pour out eternally to God.

A thousand miles of mighty wood
Where thunder-storms stride fire-shod;
A thousand flowers every rod;
A stately tree on every road;
Ten thousand leaves on every tree,
And each a miracle to me;
And yet there be men who question God!

—Joaquin Miller.

ADVENTURE

Life is a wild adventure, but sweetest of all is to tread
The long strange roads in the moonlight, glistening and white as with snow,
With dark trees following always, silently over your head,
And the tender wind of the night walking with you down below.

Never to know where the end is—by hill or wood or sea,
With the moon alone in the secret and one pale wondering star,
And those hidden ways through the shadows, unbending, stern, and free,
With the cool hushed hours before you and the morning undreamt of and far.

Life is a wild adventure, when you pass to the Courts of Love, Or dazzling with splendor and gold you enter the lists for the fight;
Yet it is sweeter than all to walk with a friendly moon above, Luring and leading you onward through the lost still ways of the night.

—Winnifred Tasker in the Bookman.

"A naturally fussy man," says Uncle Eben, "is liable to stan' around braggin' 'bout his 'pep' 'stead of earnin' his salt."—Washington Star.

The Bee Uses Its Sting

Riverside Press

A copy of the recent circular of the Better America Federation on direct legislation has reached the office of the Sacramento Bee and that paper uses its famous sting pretty effectively on some of the material put forward by the federation. Knowing the powerful business and political interests back of the federation, some papers are a little timid about criticizing the propaganda sent out by the organization under the guise of patriotism and respect for law. The Bee, however, calls this particular circular "A Voice From The Political Tomb" and reviews its foolish statements in the following vigorous manner.

Exceedingly ridiculous is a circular recently issued by the Los Angeles branch of the Better America Federation, attacking the initiative, referendum and the recall as violative of the federal constitution.

But even more absurd is the declaration in the same publication that these progressive measures, adopted by a score or more of the states of the union, are the result of propaganda "adroitly directed by the Communist Internationale" with the object of undermining the federal constitution.

It is "self-evident," says this precious document, that the initiative, referendum and recall are "in vital variance with the constitution."

Unfortunately for that contention, the courts have been unable to find anything to support it, although numerous attempts have been made through these channels to defeat these progressive steps for the benefit and protection of The People.

Even more laughable is the assertion in this circular that these means of direct legislation "are fostering the very danger the constitution so carefully provided against—of vesting direct action in the hands of the people-at-large, instead of delegating action to carefully selected representatives, which is the hall-mark of this republic."

To be consistent, the federation should denounce the change in the federal constitution by which the vote of each state for president and vice president now is governed by popular choice, instead of being left wholly to the discretion of an electoral college composed of electors "carefully selected" by the legislatures of the several states.

Possibly that change was brought about by some subtle, secret efforts of red radicals in Europe, bent upon the destruction of republicanism in America!

Quite naturally, the circular condemns as "a body blow" to the federal constitution the seventeenth amendment, by which the election of United States senators was taken from the legislatures and given to "The People" of the states respectively.

Still another "body blow" it sees in the proposal to abolish the electoral college entirely and "throw the election of the president and vice president into the open primaries."

Such a "body blow" The Bee long has advocated in the form of an amendment to the federal constitution by which The People, casting their ballots as citizens of the United States, and not of the states severally, would choose the president and vice president by direct vote, the result to be determined irrespective of state lines, and with the antiquated machinery of the electoral college entirely scrapped.

A fitting close to this article is a "body blow" of another sort which the Riverside Press lands upon the solar plexus of the federation, in these words:

"One good way to study the constitution in 'constitution week' would be to emphasize the danger to popular government of such organizations as the Better America Federation, which wants a government controlled by the bosses and conducted for the benefit of 'The Interests.'"

Enough said.

The Hunches

By Berton Bracey

Who is that lucky devil who drives a lorry car,

The bird who's blowing smoke rings from a fifty-cent cigar,

That ready-money person who's plastered with the kale,

Who seems to own the universe and have it by the tail?

He's one of that persistent and pertinacious breed,

A guy who plays his hunch out to the end.

And who's the seedy fellow, the shabby-looking bloke,

Who's obviously pretty flat if not completely broke?

Why yes, he's up against it, there's not a doubt of that,

There's fringes upon his trousers—legs, he wears a busted hat;

Yet he is, though he hasn't got a single bean to spend,

A guy who plays his hunch out to the end.

You say you're sorry for him? You needn't be, a bit,

For if you look within his eyes you'll see he hasn't quit

He may not ever duplicate the other man's success,

But he won't always be the goat for Life's unkindness.

For if the hunch is honest, Fate proves, in time, a friend

To guys who play their hunch out to the end!

~ By ARTHUR SCOTT BAILEY

Drawing a fat roll from his pocket,

"This will make believe," said Uncle Jim.

UNCLE JIM LEARNS THE TRUTH

Johnnie Green's Uncle Jim appeared to be considerably upset because the Wild Man had frightened the people in the side-show. "I don't know's any more folks will go into the side-show today. You sure scared 'em when you rose out of the pit," Uncle Jim told the Wild Man.

"I didn't mean to," said the Wild Man meekly. "You hadn't orter blame me, Mister."

"I don't," said Johnnie's uncle. "I don't blame you at all. But I wish you could point out the chap that started the trouble."

Meanwhile Johnnie Green's face was growing redder with every word they spoke. Just before his Uncle Jim said he'd give five dollars to know who threw the bones at the Wild Man, Johnnie had started to say something. And then he stopped short. He didn't care to have his uncle think he wanted five dollars for telling on himself. But at last he found himself saying miserably, "I—I blame Uncle Jim!"

"Yes, Johnnie! What is it?" "It was me," Johnnie blurted. "What do you mean? What are you talking about?" his uncle asked him.

"You?" cried Uncle Jim in amazement. "What ever possessed you to do that?"

"I thought he was hungry," Johnnie mumbled, glancing at the Wild man. "He hadn't had a fresh bone since I joined the show. He's always trying to gnaw that one that he's got in his hand now."

A queer look came over the face of Johnnie Green's uncle. He choked. It was half a minute before he could speak. And then he said to the Wild Man, "This won't happen again. You needn't work any more until tomorrow."

The Wild Man walked away. After he had gone, Johnnie's uncle explained a few things about him that Johnnie himself had at last begun to guess.

"He never really gnaws a bone," said Uncle Jim with a smile. "That's only a bite of make-believe. You'll find a good many things are like that in the show business."

Then Uncle Jim drew a fat roll of bills out of his trousers pocket. He peeled off one and handed it to Johnnie. It was five dollars. "This isn't make-believe," he chuckled.

"Oh, no! No, thank you!" Johnnie exclaimed hastily. "I didn't tell you because I expected any money."

"Of course you didn't," Uncle Jim agreed. "But I want you to take that, just the same."

He told Johnnie's Aunt Mary, later, that it was "worth it"—whatever he may have meant by that.
